IOWA WELCOMES LANDON

Gov. Alf Landon's drive toward the presidency reached a new dramatic peak in this scene during his speech at Des Moines, Ia., when 25,000 "corn country" residents gave him a boisterous ovation. Standing in the glare of floodlights before the crowd at the fairgrounds, Landon is shown returning the greetings. He pledged an agricultural program preserving the traditionally American "family-type" farm.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The Argentine cruiser Veinticinco de Mayo waited off Alicante, Spain, today, to embark President Manuel Azana and other high officials of the Spanish government.

FLAMES SWEEP REDWOOD PARK

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—A fast moving forest fire seared its way into the California Redwood park today.

The flames spreading over more than 1000 acres in less than four hours, struck the northern boundary of the restricted area in the big basin section of Santa Cruz county. State Fire Warden Charles Wilcher threw a hurriedly enlisted crew of 150 fighters against the blaze. The men were making their stand against the flames on the China grade ridge inside the state park.

The fire broke out at 6 a. m. today on the southern San Mateo county line. Racing through the tangled underbrush, it scorched more than 1000 acres of timberland, blackening huge redwood trees, and entered the state park within three hours.

The 150 fire fighters battling the blaze under Warden Wilcher reported they were unable to check the fire immediately. John Wade, Wilcher's assistant, issued a call for more men.

"We need a lot of men," Wade said. "We've got to protect the age-old stand of redwood giants in the big basin."

SETTLE ACTRESS'S SUIT FOR DAMAGES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A $100,000 damage suit charging seduction under promise to marry brought by Jeanne Cautaut Moreau, screen actress, against Harry H. Hunnewell, Chicago socialist attorney, ended today in a settlement out of court.

The actress, known on the screen as Jeanne La Fayette, asserted Hunnewell "told her he was single, had a large income from a Boston trust fund, and would marry and support her." Hunnewell in a bitter answer claimed the suit was part of an alleged extortion scheme.

Terms of the settlement were not revealed.

WANT 15-DAY EXTENSION OF WORK TERMS

Workers Take Steps to Prevent Anticipated Strike on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Representatives of Pacific coast maritime unions today proposed a 15-day extension of present waterfront working agreements in order to allow further time to negotiate new pacts and avert a threatened coast-wide shipping tie-up after Sept. 30.

This labor peace move, which may produce a fortnight's truce in anticipated industrial warfare in western shipping circles, coincided with the impending arrival by plane of Edward McGraw, department of labor's ex conciliator.

McGraw was scheduled to arrive from Washington today and attempt to mediate long standing disputes between maritime workers and unions centering about the 1934 working agreements.

If west coast shipowners and union memberships accept the 15-day amicable proposal, McGraw will be given much-needed time in which to study charges of the workers that employers are contemplating a lockout Oct. 1, and counter accusations of the operators that the unions are attempting to strangle Pacific coast shipping.

Conference Today
Shipowners' representatives and the executive committee of the international longshoremen's associations were to meet today to consider the impasse which may only be prolonged by the truce, if accepted. It was understood that each union would ask each company with which it has agreements to formulate replies to the 15-day peace proposal.

The recommendation was drawn up during a meeting of waterfront workers' and seamen's union, who convened to consider employers' de-

U. S. PURCHASES RUSSIA SILVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., announced today this country has purchased 1,000,000 pounds sterling offered on the exchange market by the Russian government "at any price."

Morgenthau said the action was taken after he learned someone was driving down the pound sterling.

In making the announcement he pointed out a tri-partite agreement between France, Great Britain and this government seeking to stabilize world currencies had invited "the cooperation" of other nations.

He said he had learned, however, "someone is driving down the pound sterling." The sterling

SLAYING CAUSED BY ROW OVER ELECTION

EUREKA, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—John Miller, 44-year-old Eureka mechanic who, according to an eye-witness, shot and killed his employer because he intended to vote for Gov. Alf M. Landon, was held by police today pending filing of formal charges.

Augustus Elam told officers Miller entered the office of L. E. Perske, 60-year-old Spanish War veteran and owner of the garage in which the mechanic worked, and asked:

"Are you going to vote for Landon for president?"

"Yes, I am," Perske replied. Miller raised a rifle, Elam said he reached for it but failed to prevent the garage worker from firing. Two bullets entered Perske's chest and pierced his heart. He died before doctors arrived.

Miller escaped in his car and was the object of a widespread search for several hours. He was arrested on a street at Garberville, on the Redwood highway south of Eureka and returned here.

End Daylight Saving Time In East

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Daylight saving time will end tonight in New York and many other American and Canadian communities.
At 2 a. m. Sunday all official clocks will be set back to 1 a. m., thus returning an hour lost last April 26 when daylight saving went into effect.
Approximately 30,000,000 persons observed daylight saving time in the United States and Canada this year.

TWO AGITATORS ARE CONVICTED

WILLIAM VELARDE, of Hawthorne, and Jose Espinosa, reputed Communists, said to be two of the leading outside agitators involved in organizing the recent strike of Mexican orange pickers in Orange county, today were awaiting sentence from Fullerton justice court, where they were convicted of vagrancy late yesterday.

Following an all-day trial before Justice Halsey I. Spence, the jury deliberated 30 minutes in returning its verdict of guilty. Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis prosecuted the case.

Velarde, who is said to have been organizer and secretary of pickers' organization, and Espinosa, also an official, were arrested on vagrancy charges July 14, shortly following strike disturbances timed simultaneously on July 6.

Justice Spence is scheduled to sentence the two men next Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Trial of Fred West, another reputed Communist who claimed he was sent here from San Francisco by the state federation of labor to investigate strike conditions, was postponed by Justice Spence to next Tuesday. West also faces a vagrancy charge.

United Press dispatches reported that he was also involved in disturbances connected with the Salinas lettuce pickers' strike, since his activities in Orange county.

CHP DEFENDED BY LABOR UNION HEAD

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—In his defense of activities of the California Highway patrol in the Salinas-Watsonville lettuce strike, Gov. Frank P. Merriam leaned heavily on a letter received from E. E. Winters, secretary, Monterey county Central Labor union.

In his statement, the governor quoted a letter from Winters as follows:

"I am happy to say that, in my personal opinion, the patrol acted in an efficient and gentlemanly manner throughout their stay here. In fact, I believe without the highway patrol at the time of our so-called riot, there would have been much worse fighting, and perhaps bloodshed."

Seek Bids for New Coast Guard Boats

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The coast guard announced today that bids will be opened on Oct. 6 for an undetermined number of patrol and rescue flying boats.

The plans are expected to resemble present coast guard ships with a cruising range of 2,000 miles. Proposals have been sent to five of the principal aircraft manufacturers in the country but it was stated that other builders may submit bids.

This is the nineteenth volume of "Who's Who," and contains life sketches of 31,434 men and women, recognized as being outstanding in their individual fields, in the entire nation. The Santa Anans so recognized are all men, and include Samuel L. Collins, United States congressman and well known attorney of the county; Angus J. Cruickshank, banker; Homer M. Deer, geologist; S. H. Finley, engineer; David J. Howell, lawyer; Arthur J. McFadden, rancher, and Georgehardus Vos, theologian.

It has been pointed out that "Who's Who," contrary to other biological volumes, is one that depends upon eminence alone for the biographies of those included. Not one sketch in the book has been paid for and none can be purchased. Only those who have attained distinction in some field of endeavor, are included and their financial status has no bearing whatever on the inclusion of their names.

Frequently such a man is one who is scarcely known in his own community, but whose work is recognized and valued in a far wider field. It is pertinent personal information concerning such individuals that "Who's Who" endeavors to collect and disseminate.

Figures show that 75 per cent of those whose names appear in Volume 19, are college graduates or former college students. Business men and educators occupy approximately the same place in the list numerically, with the legal profession third. Then come the clergy, the medical profession, writers, and public officials.

LEMKE AID CHARGES PARTY INTIMIDATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Thomas W. Myles, special representative of John Nystul, national campaign manager of the Union party, charged here today that "intimidation by major party bosses" was responsible for the failure to place the name of William Lemke, the Union party's candidate for president, on the California ballot.

"The major party bosses," Myles said in a statement issued shortly before he boarded a plane for Los Angeles, "carried on a vigorous drive to intimidate and impede the progressive voters of California."

Rear Admiral Is Named to Board

BROKE OVER BOUNDS WITH FDR ATTACK

Radio Priest Refuses to "Pull His Punches" in War on President

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The Most Rev. John T. McNicholas, Roman Catholic archbishop of Cincinnati, said today he hoped the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, who only a few weeks ago called President Roosevelt a "liar" and then apologized, would retract a statement he made here Thursday night that the president is "anti-God."

Archbishop McNicholas said Coughlin, founder of the Union party and of the National Union for Social Justice, probably made his statement only because he was heated by the subject of an address he was making.

"I am making no statement for or against President Roosevelt, for or against the Republican, Democratic or Union parties, but I am insisting, as a public moral teacher, that Father Coughlin transgressed bounds when he made the statement attributed to him—that President Roosevelt is 'anti-God,'" the archbishop said.

HUSBAND TELLS WHY HE KILLED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Embarrassed and with tears streaming from his eyes, James Henderson, 32-year-old Texas cattleman, yesterday told a jury how he saw Thomas L. Patton molesting his wife just before he sent six slugs into the beer hall proprietor's body.

"I went into the house and got my gun, just to scare him," Henderson said. "I knew I wouldn't be strong enough to fight if he did."

"I went into the bedroom and said to my wife, 'what do you mean by doing this?' She did not answer."

"I didn't say anything to him, but he looked at me and said, 'You've got me this time.' 'I said, 'get out.' 'He kept coming towards me in a crouching position and I kept backing away to give him a chance to leave."

"I thought he was going to take the gun away from me, so I fired. I was so nervous I kept on pulling the trigger after I had emptied the gun."

Earlier Mrs. Henderson testified Patton pled her with a strange drink at his beer parlor just before she was shot. She declared the drink made her so ill she did not remember anything between the time she left the beer hall until a police officer shook her after the shooting.

O'Shea Denies He Confessed Murder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—In the face of police claims that he made a full confession, James O'Shea today denied participating in a Wichita, Kans., robbery a year ago during which a 80-year-old woman victim was killed.

O'Shea was recognized and arrested on the street here by Wichita officers who said he confessed aiding Lee Morgan in the robbery of Mrs. Margaret Griffin, who was beaten to death when she resisted. They said he denied killing the woman.

The prisoner will be questioned further preparatory to be returned to Kansas, officers said.

'FAY' LEWIS TO HEAD ELKS

L. A. (FAY) Lewis, of Whittier, exalted ruler of the Anaheim lodge of Elks 11 years ago, was elected grand exalted ruler of Elks of California at the annual convention in Oakland today. He has been district deputy for some time.

As a courtesy to Lewis all the past exalted rulers of the Anaheim lodge and the Anaheim lodge drum corps, national champions, attended the convention.

Lewis moved to Whittier about three years ago, retaining his membership in the Mother Colony lodge.

Lewis was born in Anaheim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lewis, who lived at 1415 Lincoln boulevard. His mother's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Christian Mosseman, who were among the first settlers of the district. He was graduated from Anaheim Union High school in 1906 and attended the University of California at Berkeley, working his way through law school. He practices law in Los Angeles.

F. D. R. IN DRIVE TO CARRY HOME STATE

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(UP)—New York state politics engaged President Roosevelt's attention today.

His engagements for the day disclosed that he has turned himself wholeheartedly to his campaign for re-election, and that his first concern is that he shall carry his home state.

During the day he will see Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York City, former Republican congressman who was elected mayor on a Republican fusion ticket and many other leaders from his home state.

Mayor LaGuardia's visit was particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt has considered appointing him the permanent secretary of war if results of the November election make it possible.

The senate Civil Liberties committee today assembled evidence gathered in five days of hearings of strike-breaking and labor spying as basis for recommendations to congress.

The hearings were adjourned until November 1 after revelations by Pinkerton national detective agency heads that industrialists paid them nearly $5,000,000 in the past two years, much of it for "labor investigations."

Shanghai, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Shanghai was outwardly calm today but tension between Japanese and Chinese had not relaxed. While Japanese warships stood off the bund and more than 3,000 Japanese troops patrolled their section of the international settlement, diplomatic conversations went forward here and in Nanking to settle difficulties between the two nations.

U. S. CENSUS SHOWS 5000 MORE PEOPLE

Formula Used to Indicate Increase for Five-Year Period 1930-35

SANTA ANA'S population for 1936 was estimated today at 35,268, having increased nearly 5000 during the five years from 1930 through 1935, according to a formula worked out by the U. S. Census Bureau and used by the bureau to compute municipal populations.

Based primarily on an estimate of the national population for 1935, the census bureau formula considers the number of births and emigration since 1930. Allowance was made for unregistered births and deaths. The national population, so estimated, is 127,521,000, an increase of 4,746,000 over the 1930 population.

Shows Steady Increase
Santa Ana's population was 30,322 in 1930 and 15,485 in 1920. The increase from 1930 to 1935 was about 4946. The increase did not seem unreasonable to local observers, who pointed out that hundreds of new homes have been erected in recent years, and practically every house in the city is filled.

To figure Santa Ana's population by the census bureau formula, which is rather complicated, the relationship of the population increase between 1930 and 1935 to the increase between 1920 and 1930, for the county as a whole, is adjusted for Santa Ana according to the relationship which Santa Ana's 1920 to 1930 population increase bore to that of the whole country for the same period.

Immigration Reduced

PARTIES BATTLE FOR FARM VOTES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The farm problem, perennial issue of presidential campaigns, was raised to the front rank of the 1936 battle today in a bitter contest between Republicans and Democrats for the rural vote.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace stated the administration policy and assailed Gov. Alf M. Landon's program last night in a national broadcast. Wallace described the Republican presidential nominee's program, outlined in a Des Moines speech Tuesday night, as "foolish" and asserted it would in two years "end in a smash worse than in 1932."

His attack on Gov. Landon's proposal to pay a tariff-equivalent subsidy on domestically consumed portions of export crops.

During the day he will see Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York City, former Republican congressman who was elected mayor on a Republican fusion ticket and many other leaders from his home state.

SEEK TRUCE IN SHIPPING WAR

cision to disregard hiring halls after Sept. 30 and employ longshore workers at the docks at increased wages.

Harry Bridges, Pacific coast district president of the I. L. A., charged this move would establish a lockout and indicated members of the union from Seattle to San Diego would refuse to work under those conditions after the agreements expire Sept. 30.

Gestures of peace and a renewal of contract negotiations did not alter the uncompromising stands of employers and workers which brought about a collapse of conferences designed to modify the agreements.

There was no indication that the waterfront employers association would retreat from its demands that a new contract include provisions for penalties for violation of terms.

Both Sides Firm

Neither was there indication that the I. L. A. would soften its demands for uniform working rules for all ports and bolstering of the advantages won at the conclusion of the 1934 general strike.

Hence, when longshoremen and employers meet today, upon Bridges' initiative, both sides were expected to come prepared to insist their respective demands be conceded. Direct negotiations will prevail because the I. L. A. refuse to accept arbitration as a means of settling "fundamental principles," such as the six-hour day, right to strike, and privilege of refusing to pass picket lines of another union.

In announcing the 15-day truce proposal, the union leaders asked that "steamship operators of the Pacific Coast abandon their present arbitrary and distinctly hostile attitude and agree to continue peaceful and sincere negotiations for an additional 15 days after Sept. 30."

"During the additional 15-day period all waterfront and maritime workers are willing to remain at work under present existing wages and working conditions."

"In unanimously making this decision the maritime unions did so in interest of peace and harmony in the maritime industry and with due regard to public inconvenience that would be greeted by another bitter industrial conflict on the Pacific coast waterfront, possibly spreading to all other ports of the nation."

The committee represented the longshoremen, sailors' Union of the Pacific; marine, firemen, oilers and waterenders; marine cooks and stewards; masters, mates and pilots; marine engineers, telegraphers; machinists and boiler-makers.

McGrady, who directed settlement of the last waterfront battle here, will confer with employers' representatives and union leaders immediately upon his arrival.

LONDON TO OUTLINE GOP FARM PROGRAM

OSHKOSH, Wis., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon, headed for Milwaukee today to open the heaviest fire of his presidential campaign against the Roosevelt administration's social security program.

With his outline of the Republican farm program complete, the Kansas governor was scheduled to discuss the present old age pension and unemployment insurance legislation in a major speech tonight and to present his own plans for solving that problem.

His campaign tour through Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and into Wisconsin was described as highly satisfactory by his aides after a series of appearances before large crowds last night in this state where LaFollette progressive party has been in the ascendancy.

Forgetting Politics for Peanuts

Fairgoers may no longer have to argue the respective merits of the "side-arm swing" or the "shovel" technique of peanut-munching if they accept as standard the style set here by Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican candidate for president, and his wife at the Kansas state fair at Topeka. In two hours at the fair, they went with their children for merry-go-round rides and mingled with crowds.

Much of the redwood timber threatened is of commercial value. Wade reported. He said some trees of saleable value already had been destroyed.

LA HABRA LEGION OPENS CAMPAIGN

LA HABRA, Sept. 26.—The American Legion post has entered into a membership contest, with the quota for this year set at 54 members.

Frank Moreno, chairman of the membership committee, has organized his men into two teams, with L. E. Proud and A. J. Cookerly as captains. The drive will start immediately. Last year the membership list rose to a total of 60 members in the drive.

Plans for this drive were made at a special meeting held early this week at the home of Lambert Vandenberg.

was quoted at $5.02 yesterday and has sunk rapidly to $4.91.

"On making inquiries I found that the Russian state bank had given orders to sell 1,000,000 pounds sterling 'at best' which means at any price," Morgenthau said.

"When I learned this I bought their sterling. I bought what they wanted to sell with our stabilization fund money."

"This is the only incident to date of any government or any bank or any individual attempting to try to artificially influence the foreign exchange markets in the United States."

Morgenthau pointed out both London and Paris markets are closed.

U. S. TO PROTECT TRI-PARTITE PACT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The United States served emphatic notice on the world today that it is ready to go the limit in protecting the integrity of its new tri-partite agreement with France and England to stabilize international currency markets.

Striking with decisive swiftness when informed the Russian state bank was attempting to depress sterling by offering one million pounds "at the market" on the New York exchange, Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau carried out this government's part of the "gentlemen's agreement" by using the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to frustrate the move.

Simultaneously, Secretary of State Cordell Hull hailed the new monetary accord as a boon to world trade and peace and said the action had brought world-wide stabilization of currencies a step nearer.

The raid on the pound sterling came little more than 12 hours after the United States, England and France agreed to pool their tremendous resources in cooperative effort to prevent wide fluctuations in currency quotations, coincident with abandonment by France of the gold standard.

Close Money Markets London and Paris money markets were closed. On the New York market the sterling sank swiftly from $5.05 to $4.91 shortly after the opening.

As American markets were the only ones affected, it was up to the United States to act under the new agreement.

Retaliation came speedily when Morgenthau was informed dumping by the Russian bank had caused the decline. Digging into the stabilization fund for $5,000,000, Morgenthau bought the entire offering and bolstered the sagging currency market.

The transaction resulted in a profit for this government, he said, and served to warn other nations the three greatest money nations will not tolerate tampering with the objectives of the new agreement.

"I sincerely hope," Morgenthau said, "no one will try this again." He said this government was prepared to throw its entire $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund into the money markets if necessary to maintain currency levels.

The treasury secretary said the accord was reached with active cooperation of President Roosevelt. America's action in connection with the raid on the pound was received favorably in France, Morgenthau said. He said the dumping had not affected the agreement in any way and "as far as the gentlemen are concerned, we're all still gentlemen."

France Acts to Devalue Franc PARIS, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The French government decided today to devalue the franc—possibly by one-fourth or one-third of its current value—under an agreement with the United States and Great Britain that may bring world-wide currency adjustment.

Parliament meets in extraordinary session Monday to legalize the devaluation and give the government power to requisition all gold at the current rate. The Bank of France already has ceased gold deliveries to individuals so that technically France—mainstay of the gold bloc nations—is off the gold standard.

The United States and Great Britain have assured France the "use of all means to prevent monetary difficulties." That is interpreted to mean the giant stabilization funds of the two nations will be used to prevent raids on the new franc. Other nations were urged to cooperate.

France sought, and obtained, the three-nation agreement. World-wide it was acclaimed as a good move. As a result any nervous repercussion from the devaluation in America is likely to be minimized.

The actual decision to devalue was forced by the steady outflow of gold that had carried the nation's reserves close to a point which would endanger national security. The cabinet council met for six hours Friday afternoon.

Glenn Rupe, 18, Los Angeles, convicted of drunk driving, yesterday began serving 125 days in county jail. He was jailed by Chief A. J. Collins, La Habra.

Arrested in Brea by Chief W. H. Williams and Mrs. Williams, master, Mrs. Ethel Rowe, 32, Pomona, jailed last night on a charge of drunk driving.

Permitted the alternatives of paying a $100 fine or remaining in jail for 25 days, Robert Shouse, 23, Whittier, today was rebuffed to begin serving the jail term, after conviction on reckless driving charges.

G. E. Taylor, 55, 209 1-2 West Fourth, was jailed yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Fred Humiston on a charge of violating probation by asserting using liquor.

Convicted of being drunk and disturbing the peace, Edward Lepel, 21, Los Angeles, today began serving a 50-day term in county jail. He was brought in by Chief A. J. Collins of La Habra.

Police News

An abandoned bicycle, found at his place yesterday by Jack Henle, 202 Bush street, was returned to the owner, Aubrey Burg, 507 1-2 Minter street, police records show.

After reporting her purse stolen Thursday night at Municipal Bowl, from a parked car, Mrs. Harry L. Brady, Route 2, Box 338, Santa Ana, later told officers it was all a mistake—she found the purse untouched, in a nook or cranny of the car.

When Officer Charles Neer investigated complaint of Edward Cochems that boys were racing their automobiles about the block near his home last night, the boys had disappeared. The officer reported "no racing drivers were anywhere around."

Assistant Chief Harry Fink was in Long Beach today, to attend the California Peace Officers' Institute of Technical Training conference, held in the LaPayette hotel under direction of C. S. Morrill, chief of the state division of criminal investigation.

Bicycles belonging to Harry DeShay, 1124 South Flower, and Jack Allen, 203 Owens drive, were reported to city police yesterday as stolen. DeShay said his red, rebuilt bicycle was stolen from the yard at his home Thursday night; Allen said his black and red sports model bicycle was stolen last night from beside Walker's State theater.

A man reported intoxicated and lying on his face at Second and Shelton streets yesterday afternoon was taken home by friends when Chief Floyd Howard and Officer George Boyd went to investigate, police reports show.

Los Angeles police asked cooperation of city police last night after they assertedly stopped a car in Los Angeles and two men leaped out and disappeared. Los Angeles officers said the car had been stolen. It carried license plates, apparently stolen from a car belonging to Grace Steffens, formerly of 1613 Durant, Santa Ana. Officers sought Grace Steffens to determine when the plates were stolen but learned she had moved to a ranch near Orange.

The "suspicious" boy reported last evening at Charlotte street and Riverside drive was Albert Skude of Fresno. Officers Harry Fink and Charles Wolford learned upon investigation. Skude said he had been visiting in San Diego and was on his way home, via the "hitch-hiking" route.

Mike Bablon, Box 553, Placentia, at first thought a mystery man was dumping a mystery sack from an automobile here last night but later learned the "sack" was a woman, he reported to city police. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and L. C. Snodgrass investigated, finding Mercy Rodriguez, 916 Lincoln street, and Robert Garcia, 914 East Walnut, in the midst of an argument. Brought to police station, the couple was advised to make up, "go home and cause no more trouble."

Glenn Rupe, 18, Los Angeles, convicted of drunk driving, yesterday began serving 125 days in county jail. He was jailed by Chief A. J. Collins, La Habra.

Arrested in Brea by Chief W. H. Williams and Mrs. Williams, master, Mrs. Ethel Rowe, 32, Pomona, jailed last night on a charge of drunk driving.

That Old Box Car Rolls Again for Forty and Eight

Whooping it up in a delirium of fun, Detroit members of Voiture 102, Forty and Eight, American Legion unit, are shown here as they moved down a Cleveland street during the height of the legion national convention. The replica of the old French box car, "dear to the hearts" of veterans, is drawn by a motorized locomotive. Scores of similar "trains" paraded through downtown Cleveland as the Forty and Eighters celebrated.

NEW FIGHTS ON LETTUCE STRIKE

WATSONVILLE, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Attacks on strikebreakers continued in the Watsonville lettuce area today.

Two men, beaten by a gang of union sympathizers, were taken to the Watsonville hospital.

In a second disorder, strikebreakers repulsed an attack, holding three assailants until arrival of police.

Several minor disorders also were reported. Chief of Police Matt Graves described the situation as serious.

The major disturbances occurred when an automobile load of labor sympathizers attacked three strikebreakers sitting in a machine in the downtown Watsonville area.

One of the assailants was said to have flashed a knife.

Two strikebreakers, Claude Aaron, 27, and Robert Harvey, 35, were taken to the hospital suffering from gashes about the face and body.

The third strikebreaker, Ernest Pappe, 43, escaped with minor injuries.

The attackers escaped before police reached the scene. Witnesses told police eight men were in the attacking party.

In the second disorder, a gang of union sympathizers attempted to beat up three strikebreakers as the latter walked out of a restaurant.

The strikebreakers, however, beat back the attack, holding three assailants for police.

Police arrested the trio and charged them with disturbing the peace and assault.

The three gave their names as Jerome Butler, Fred Kelly and Larry Summers.

Hailed into police court, they were sentenced to five days in jail or to pay a $1 fine. They paid the fine and were released.

Chief Graves said that union sympathizers, unable to reach workers in the packing sheds and lettuce fields, are waylaying them on their way to and from home.

"If necessary we will provide police escorts to all who need it," Graves said.

Graves said he had received numerous reports of harassment of workers, including several rock throwing episodes.

"The situation is becoming serious," he said. "Union sympathizers have chased many workers on their way to and from home."

"Seven or eight workers have been beaten up."

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—I don't know whether Japan is still really serious about her self appointed role as caretaker of Asia, but she certainly seems to keep right on the job when it comes to going around picking up pieces of broken China.

Historians have always said that the Japanese copied China, but now it looks as though they'll have to change that word to "copied."

But nevertheless, the Flowery Kingdom has certainly proved one thing, and that is, if you build a better fire-cracker, the world will improve on it and blow your doorway right down.

In diplomatic matters, possession is no longer nine points of the law. . . . The only points recognized today are those on the bayonets.

POPULATION OF CITY IS 35,000

The United States has increased since 1930 as compared to the 10-year period prior to 1930, is a slackening of immigration, according to the census bureau.

A declining birth rate has also been a factor in this trend, the bureau reports.

The bureau warned that the population estimate obtained by this formula is necessarily based on the assumption that the relative increase between one area and another has been the same since 1930 as it was during the decade before, and that in at least some instances this regularity of increase has not been maintained.

YOUTH IS STRUCK DOWN BY TRUCK

Dashing from behind the Santa Fe railroad station building yesterday afternoon, Joaquin Valdez, Santa Ana youth of 124 East Fourth, was struck down by an American Railway Express truck operated by Leonard M. Alton, 706 South Sycamore, according to investigation of Officer William Nielsen. Valdez suffered a broken ankle, the officer reported. Valdez was removed to Orange county hospital for treatment. The officer reported Alton had neither operator's nor chauffeur's license.

MERRIAM MOVES TO STOP EXAMINATIONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today was on record in favor of the cancellation of civil service examinations held for positions of toll bridge collector on the San Francisco-Oakland bay region because the qualifications assertedly were "unfair."

In a letter to the state personnel board, the governor called attention to numerous protests he had received against the board's action in setting up certain weight and height limitations for applicants for the collector posts.

"These limitations prevented a great number of persons who would otherwise qualify because of honesty, experience, intelligence and age, from competing in the examinations," the governor said.

MRS. STRAW NAMED P.-T. A. TREASURER

TUSTIN, Sept. 26.—The resignation of Mrs. Nina King as treasurer was accepted at a called meeting of the executive board of Tustin Union High School P.-T. A. held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. May W. Borum.

Mrs. G. W. Straw was elected to the office. Mrs. J. L. Marshall, president, presided.

Those present were Mesdames J. L. Marshall, Glenn S. Warner, Guy H. Christian, Clarence A. Nisson, May W. Borum, F. B. Browning, Charles N. Archer, Porter G. Luther and Miss Clara Macomber.

NEW LESSEE FOR CAFE IN TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Mrs. E. L. Eustis has leased the brown stucco cafe on First street, formerly known as the Trianon cafe and plans to be open for business the first week of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Eustis and family have resided in Tustin for many years. Mrs. Eustis has assisted at the Home Cafe in Santa Ana and for the past four years has had charge of the cafeteria at Tustin Union High school.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Physicians fought today to save the life of Alta Deery, 24, pretty brunette victim of an attack which contained many of the elements of three hotel room murders in the past five months.

Miss Deery, New York actress, was choked, avished and garroted in her room in a loop hotel. The intruder set fire to her stage clothes and fled. Her roommate, Dorothy Ryan, found her with a silk stocking knotted about her neck, her dress in ribbons.

Hospital attendants said Miss Deery contracted bronchial pneumonia from shock and exposure.

rine, and asked that the cruiser be advised. The ministry of marine radioed Commander Miguel Ferreyras of the Vientecino de Mayo (25th of May, date of the Argentine declaration of independence from Spain) and Ferreyras wireless back: "Standing by."

The cruiser has been in Spanish waters since the early days of the civil war, when it was sent from here to embark Argentine refugees and protect Argentine interests.

It is planned that, at the request of the Spanish officials, the cruiser shall leave for a French port whose name will not be revealed until its arrival.

LOYALISTS ADVANCE ON TOLEDO ROAD

WITH LOYALIST FORCES, Toledo, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The loyalists advanced in a determined offensive today, forcing the rebel columns back more than a mile along the Torrijos-Toledo highway.

Two government pursuit warplanes brought down a rebel airplane bomber at the gates of Toledo. The four occupants were believed killed. Three bodies were found on the terraces.

The bomber was believed to be of Italian make and unconfirmed reports said the crew was either Italian or German.

Loyalists reduced their Alcazar besieging force to a necessary minimum to reinforce the battle line west of the city.

If the rebels enter, loyalists expect the rebels in the Alcazar to join in an attack that would put the loyalists between two forces.

Columns of loyalist volunteers marched off westward to join the front line forces.

As the climax of the greatest battle of the war neared, the nearest rebel line to Madrid still was in the Guadarrama mountains north of the capital—42 miles. At Maqueda, the rebels were 46 miles away; at their morning line west of Toledo, 52 miles.

An official announcement said 400 Moors had surrendered to the Loyalists in the morning offensive on the Toledo front, during fierce fighting less than five miles from Toledo in the vicinity of Vargas.

REBEL AIRPLANES BOMB BILBAO

BILBAO, Spain, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Rebel airplanes began a second day of merciless air bombing raids today, and townspeople fled in panic westward from the city toward Santander.

Casualties in yesterday's raids, at first placed between 60 and 100, were revised to a loose "several hundred" killed.

Sixteen buildings were damaged, including the palace of deputies, and Francisco Echevarria, governor of the city, was injured. A bomb slightly damaged the British consulate.

Eight planes returned over the city this morning to continue the attack, intended to force the city's surrender without a fight while three rebel columns were moving westward.

The air raid was in keeping with Gen. Emilio Mola's rebel ultimatum to surrender by Friday or suffer the consequences.

Five bombing planes and three pursuit ships flew back and forth all day over Bilbao bombing the principal business section and setting many fires.

Heavy damage was caused. The North railway station is burning. Government buildings and the deputy's palace were in flames.

The French consulate where the consul, Rene Casteran refused to abandon his precarious post, remained untouched.

The entire fire department fought the flames.

COUGHLIN REFUSES TO "PULL PUNCHES"

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin said today he has no intention of pulling his punches against President Roosevelt, although the official Vatican newspaper, the bishop of his own diocese and the archbishop of Cincinnati have condemned his language recently.

"I'm not going to call him a liar—or certain other words in the English language," Coughlin said, "but I am not going to modify my attack on President Roosevelt."

He said he would not be surprised if the Vatican reprimands him for his advocacy at Cincinnati Thursday night of "bullets for an upstart dictator."

"I do not anticipate it, however," he said.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Triviality is a cheap substitute for courage and honest endeavor. Some of your companions have a notion that making light of life's sufferings and its responsibilities will ease pain. Avoid such a blurring of the fact that life is a serious business. Hopes and joys which sustained you are now gone and completely wrecked. Refuse to belittle yourself by sneering at what you have suffered or by throwing aside your love and allegiance.

With God's help stand up to your task and bravely do your best.

TWO DIVISIONS OF CHEST GET BUSY MONDAY

Next Monday, two divisions of the Community Chest campaign will start their work in advance of the regular solicitation which takes place October 5, it was announced today by D. G. Tidball, general campaign chairman. These are the advance gifts committee and the establishments division.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the advance gifts committee under the chairmanship of W. B. Williams will meet at campaign headquarters, 114 East Fifth street for instruction and assignment of duties in calling on business firms and individuals who may be expected to subscribe to the larger amounts.

"Our committee will concern itself only with business concerns and individuals who can be expected to make subscriptions in excess of $100," Chairman Williams explained.

"While we will be handling a comparatively few prospects, nevertheless we have accepted the responsibility for a large part of the total campaign goal and it is from the people that we call on that the bulk of the increased support necessary must be obtained. With business conditions improved it should be possible for nearly everyone to return to the standard of giving of 1932-33 when subscribers in this classification gave more than $15,000 to the Chest."

Members of the advance gifts committee are O. H. Barr, Alex Brownridge, C. H. Chapman, Col. S. H. Finley, W. Brad Hellis, Hugh J. Lowe, R. B. Newcom, C. L. Pritchard, W. D. Ranney, William H. Spurgeon Jr., Charles F. Smith, T. E. Stephenson, W. A. Taylor, William C. Smith and W. D. Rudd.

At 6:15 p. m. on the same day, company chairmen who are carrying on the Chest appeal with employee groups in larger business and industrial establishments will hold a dinner meeting at the Green Cat cafe for instruction and distribution of supplies.

This department of the campaign under the leadership of R. Carson Smith will contact more than 3000 employees of Santa Ana business concerns. Commenting on the organization of this division, Chairman Smith said:

"This year we must raise considerably more money than last year. In order to get the additional support necessary we must spread information which will result in increased pledges on the part of all givers. While the bulk of the increase must come in the higher brackets of giving, at the same time I believe that we may reasonably ask a modest increase in the standard of giving of everyone who is employed."

Court Notes

Home Owners Loan Corporation today brought suit in superior court against H. B. Van Dien, of Santa Ana, and others, to foreclose a $11,440 mortgage against Santa Ana property.

Hugh Ibbotson and his wife, Della, today petitioned superior court to postpone threatened foreclosure of a mortgage against their property in Orange county and Los Angeles city. The Security-First National Bank was named as holder of the mortgage. The suit was brought under the 1935 mortgage moratorium act.

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Bonnie Wilson today filed a suit for divorce in superior court against Arthur J. Wilbur. They wed at Vermont, Neb., June 25, 1914, and separated in Santa Ana two weeks ago today. Attorneys West and West represent the plaintiff.

Mrs. Mary F. Ferguson was plaintiff today in a divorce action brought in superior court against Thomas R. Ferguson Jr., of Garden Grove. The couple married in that city August 12, 1927, and separated last August 6. Attorneys West and McKinney and George H. Tobias are counsel for the plaintiff.

John W. Comrie today charged that his wife, Eloise, married him for spite; that she admitted affairs with other men before her marriage; and that she refused to cook and keep house for him. The charges were made in a divorce complaint on file in superior court.

Desertion was charged in a divorce complaint on file today in superior court. Harry T. Dysart appearing as plaintiff against Yvonne F. Dysart, who left him May 11, 1935, he claims.

Three divorce decrees were granted at uncontested hearings late yesterday in superior court, as follows: Eva M. Grist against William Grist, grounds cruelty; David F. Drake against Vera E. Drake, grounds cruelty; Ruby A. Cocroft against H. C. Cocroft, grounds cruelty.

J. L. Armstrong, of Santa Ana, driver of a car involved in a crash at Harbor boulevard and Talbert road, where his companions, Neven E. Ward and Edward O. Stokes, of Santa Ana, were killed July 21, was sentenced late yesterday to serve two sentences, aggregating one year in the county jail. He was charged with two counts of negligent homicide. Superior Judge H. G. Ames sentencing him to six months on each count. The court ordered the sentences to run consecutively. Armstrong's application for probation was denied.

Mother Cheers Reich Troopers

Pledging allegiance to Nazi rule, hundreds of thousands of German civilians assembled at the Nuremberg party congress. In the throng were thousands of women and children. This picture shows one mother as she momentarily forgot her three youngsters and mounted on the side of their sturdy go-cart to ding up a hand in tribute to the marching brown shirt troopers.

ARREST OF 397 FOR ILLEGAL PARKING ORDERED BY HOWARD

With 397 persons failing to appear in city court to answer illegal parking summons, issued to them in the form of traffic tickets since June 1, Santa Ana police officers, under orders from Chief Floyd W. Howard, will bring issuing arrest warrants to bring them before City Judge J. G. Mitchell, who returns from his vacation Monday.

Of the 397 persons, 321 have failed to answer summons of one ticket, while 76 have failed to answer summons of two or more tickets. Since June 1, according to police records, 550 persons have been ticketed for illegal parking on Santa Ana thoroughfares.

On Monday, a conference of all officers will be held, when Chief Howard will issue special instructions regarding arrest of those failing to appear in court on the illegal parking tickets, Chief Howard said. In order to issue arrest warrants, an officer must obtain the violator's signature. If it is necessary, the chief said, an officer will be assigned to wait beside the parked cars of those who have several violations to their credit but whose signatures have not been obtained before.

Chief Howard issued the list of those who have failed to appear on two or more tickets, together with the total number of violations charge. Here it is:

CASE TRANSFERRED
LA HABRA, Sept. 26.—After jurors and witnesses had assembled in Justice A. C. Earley's court Thursday for the trial of B. F. Chambers, the case was transferred to the court of Judge H. I. Spence at Fullerton.

B. F. Chambers, leader of a church here, is accused by E. N. Whittemore of conducting noisy meetings in the old dance hall on East Central avenue.

JANET BRIGGS RETURNS HOME FROM EUROPE

"Doctor of Mining is the literal translation of my degree," today explained Miss Janet Briggs, just arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Briggs, 644 North Broadway, after more than three years' absence in Europe continuing her studies in metallurgical engineering.

With all the honors that this young Santa Ana student has gained in the past few years, she still retains an extreme modesty regarding her own achievements, and newspaper publicity is anathema to her. But her friends here in her childhood and girlhood home are so eager to know about her, and have waited with such interest for her return, that it seemed almost necessary to give them some information regarding her years of study abroad, and her plans now that she has returned home.

Arriving yesterday at Los Angeles harbor on the Hamburg-American liner "Vancouver," Miss Briggs was met by her mother and other members of the family. Today in company with her aunt, Miss Gertrude Potts, she is spending in Los Angeles, and when we were able to see her for a few minutes this morning, it was in the hurry of an imminent departure for the city. On the homeward trip for which the Vancouver sailed from Hamburg on August 22, the young Santa Ana scientist was one of five Americans on a passenger list of 60. With her proficiency in the languages of continental Europe, this situation had no problems for Miss Briggs however, for she speaks fluent French and German, quite a bit of Swedish, and understands various other modern languages.

The remaining four Americans aboard were young men returning from the Olympiad in Berlin, in which they had taken part as one of the racing crews.

Now that she is back in her own country from which she left for Vienna on July 10, 1933, Miss Briggs is still uncertain regarding her future plans. However, she means to return to Stanford (where she took her Bachelor's degree) for some graduate work and perhaps to do a little lecturing. Further than that she has made no definite plans as yet, preferring to wait and study the situation here a bit before committing herself to any definite lecturing or teaching program.

These last few weeks before her departure from Europe have been devoted to travel. She visited Finland and Sweden and spent some time in three central European countries of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. Earlier in the summer she had visited in Roumania with Dr. and Mrs. Crooks. Dr. Crooks was one of her Stanford professors who was working for his Master's degree in Bucharest at the same time she was pursuing similar studies in Austria.

During her three years of study and travel, Miss Briggs had her passport extended four times, to permit the diversified travel plan she put into execution.

CHEER LEADERS TO BE NAMED MONDAY

The Santa Ana Junior college student executive board will hold a huddle Monday, draw straws, cast lots, roll the dice, and select from a bevy of nine candidates four who will act as cheer leaders for the football season that has crept upon us.

Last night, while Santa Ana was marching through Glendale, the various candidates displayed their wares before the assembled students. During the first half of the game, Chick Schields, Fred Pimental, Virginia Scott and Virginia Wilson, all freshmen, led the boys and girls in yells for S. A. J. C. Cheers during the second half were led by Charles McIntyre, Lester Huhn, Billie Johnson, Willie White and Evelyn Richards. The elimination contest is under the direction of Junior College Men's Athletic Commissioner Franklin Guthrie.

S. A. MAN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

His car allegedly involved in a collision last night with a stolen car, operated by a car thief, Roger McCune, 20, of 310 South Parton, today was recovering from injuries, at St. Joseph hospital.

According to reports, the alleged automobile thief was arrested by Norwalk officers and jailed there. McCune, given first aid at county hospital, was transferred to St. Joseph's to be treated for lacerations of the right leg and cuts and bruises about the face and head. The accident occurred on Manchester near Norwalk, in Los Angeles county, reports said.

18 YEAR OLD BOY PLANS CHUTE JUMP

Dick Hall, 18-year-old Long Beach youth, will complete the fourth parachute jump of his parachute jumping "career," at the Eddie Martin airport tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Dale Decker.

Hall, who may possibly be accompanied on the jump by a Long Beach girl, will be instructed in the feat by Troy Colboch, world champion parachute jumper. The plane from which the jumpers will leap, will be piloted by Floyd Wright, airport manager, it was announced.

Federal Band To Play On Sunday

The works progress administration, Federal Music Project band, under the direction of Eddie Klein will play a Sunday afternoon concert at Irvine park at 2:30. Klein has been receiving numerous requests for selections which he is attempting to include in these programs.

Building a balanced program that appeals to the music-loving groups of this county has been bringing to Director Klein and this group of musicians many compliments in the past months. Arrangements have been made to have this band play three Sunday concerts in Birch park, starting October 4. The programs selected to be played at this series will contain an appeal to all the music lovers of this city.

SMOKE IN LIBRARY BRINGS OUT POLICE

Fearing the odor of smoke at the Santa Ana public library about 10:30 o'clock last night might have been the forerunner of a disastrous fire, Miss Ethel Walker, librarian, asked city police to make a check of the building. Officers Charles Neer and W. H. Moreland checked but found everything all right. Miss Walker believed the olfactory senses of library officials might have been a bit "off key" last night or some smoke from outside of the building might have drifted through an open window.

PROWLERS REPORTED ACTIVE IN NIGHT

Prowlers reported active last night were gone when police investigated. Mrs. James Allen, 2415 Bonnie Brae, reported a suspicious car at Santa Clara and Bonnie Brae, but Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and L. C. Snodgrass couldn't find it or its driver. C. H. Lane, 518 East Myrtle, believed the prowler he saw in his backyard last evening at 7:15 was a would-be burglar. Officers J. W. Foster and Harry Prichard were called at 10 p. m. but couldn't find the prowler. Atty. Franklin West reported a prowler active near his home, 321 East Santa Clara, about 8:45 o'clock last night but Officer H. E. Holmes could not find the prowler when he went to investigate.

G. O. P. Waste And Corruption Cost Billions In Taxes

The final balance sheet on the public works program inaugurated by the Roosevelt Administration will disclose it to be the best investment ever made by the Federal Government.

The program has been remarkably efficient—in fact non-partisan

Elephant bagged! Speaking of waste, "What does Gov. Landon think of the $300,000,000 Farm Board?"

authorities agree that the percentage of bad investments will be far smaller than is usually the case in private business.

Partisan newspapers—led by the notorious Hearst press—have continually misrepresented and falsified the record on Government projects. Most of these alleged "waste" stories are faked, a form of yellow journalism in which Hearst has few peers and no superiors.

The Republican National Committee has consistently and deliberately spread these fake "waste" stories all over the country.

Whenever the Republican Party wishes to make an issue of honesty and decency in government, the Democratic Party is ready and willing to meet it. The Democratic Party in fact welcomes such an issue.

REPUBLICAN CORRUPTION!

In the whole history of the American Government, there is nothing to equal the bribery, corruption, looting and debauchery that occurred under the Harding Administration. The Teapot Dome and Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserves were bartered away and the Veterans Bureau was robbed and raped. Even the bedclothes intended for wounded war veterans were sold by thieves looting.

The corruption of the Harding Administration was succeeded by the stupidity of the Coolidge and Hoover era. More than 11,000 banks were allowed to topple, bringing an appalling loss to investors.

The RFC was set up by the Hoover Administration to offset the depression and immediately turned into an agency to help the favored few. A loan of $90,000,000 was made to the Dawes bank in Chicago and Uncle Sam is now taking a loss of at least $24,000,000 on that transaction.

The Republican National Committee has deluged the country with literature holding up the Passamaquoddy power project in Maine, on which $7,000,000 was expended, as a tragic example of "waste" under the New Deal.

By sniping tactics it has been possible to halt the Quoddy project temporarily—but in the final outcome there probably won't be a single dollar of loss to the taxpayers.

But suppose the $7,000,000 were lost. Let's examine a few Republican losses.

REPUBLICAN WASTE

The Federal Farm Board was set up under Mr. Hoover, a fantastic scheme which depressed farm prices and ruined American farmers, costing Uncle Sam far in excess of $300,000,000! Very well, then, take a map and stick a pin in each of the forty-eight States.

Each one of the forty-eight pins represents a Republican Passamaquoddy for which you, Mr. Taxpayer, will have to pay. And when you get through with that you will pay for the $90,000,000 loan to Mr. Dawes' bank. Later this column will deal with some tragic waste under Republican rule.

The $300,000,000 squandered on Mr. Hoover's Farm Board to drive farmers into bankruptcy is the prize example of waste in American history. And the entire amount went into the pockets of grain speculators.

Felix M. Warburg Gives Gov. Landon Important Help

One of the important developments of the campaign, marking the decisive trend to Gov. Landon, is the announcement of Felix M. Warburg, philanthropist and outstanding Jewish leader, that he will vote for the Republican nominee.

The reasons why Mr. Warburg will support Gov. Landon are impressive. His statement says:

Gov. Landon's stand for opportunity of the individual, academic freedom and religious liberty, as expressed in his recent speeches and in his record, is in accordance with the best traditions of American democracy.

"Gov. Landon's emphasis in his recent speeches on economy in government and efficient operation of relief while at the same time stressing the necessity that no man or woman should starve, is in my opinion, the proper approach to the problems that beset us. His emphasis on more employment for labor and fair treatment of business is the only safe basis for recovery, for we must have an expansion of present enterprises and new business must be encouraged."

"For these reasons I intend to vote for Gov. Landon."

Mr. Warburg's statement was transmitted to Gov. Landon by J. A. Harzfeld, special assistant to Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican National Committee. Mr. Harzfeld said:

DEVOTED TO PHILANTHROPY

"Mr. Felix M. Warburg of New York, has made a public statement, copy of which I send to you herewith.

"Mr. Warburg is undoubtedly the outstanding Jewish leader in philanthropic, welfare and social service work in America. The liberal contribution of his time and money to every worthy cause, both Jewish and gentile, has endeared him to millions throughout the world.

"For the last fifteen years Mr. Warburg has devoted himself almost entirely to philanthropic work, serving as officer and director in many Jewish and non-Jewish welfare organizations.

"With such interests in the fields of social service work and philanthropy I cannot overestimate the importance of what he has to say, and I am happy to inclose the statement which he has issued."

The importance of Mr. Warburg's statement was quickly noted by newspaper correspondents in Toledo, who commented not only upon Mr. Warburg's prominence in philanthropic and social service work, but also upon his friendship for Gov. Lehman and his influence among citizens of the Jewish faith.

It has been no secret that Gov. Landon has been made the object of a double barreled "whispering campaign." This was pointed out by the New York Times correspondent, Mr. James A. Hagerty, in his dispatch published yesterday morning. This "whispering campaign" alleges in some sections that Mr. Landon is anti-Semitic and in others that he is Jewish, "the latter contention," according to Mr. Hagerty, "being based on the fact that his mother's name was Mossman."

Mr. Hagerty continued in his dispatch:

"The charge that Gov. Landon is anti-Semitic, seldom made in the open but spread in cities where there is a large Jewish population has caused the Governor much concern, particularly because his record disproves such a charge. Long before he was thought of as a Presidential candidate or even as a candidate for Governor he bolted the gubernatorial nominee of his party in Kansas to support William Allen White for Governor in a fight against the Ku Klux Klan, which was based on intolerance and racial and religious opposition to Jews, Catholics and Negroes. Although Mr. White was defeated, the fight ended the Klan in Kansas."

MR. E. CHURCH PANEL DISCUSSES CRIME

The panel discussion on "How Decrease Crime" at Everybody's Vesper, First Methodist church Sunday evening at 8:30, will be a challenging feature for all wide awake citizens of Santa Ana.

You will be exposed to the mind of youth in this meeting. While Mrs. Golden Weston of the adult education department of the city schools will be the panel director, Charles Warner, Florence Ulrich, Jack Reade and Dorothy Hanna will participate in the conversation. The minister, Dr. George A. Warner will "sum up" the arguments presented.

These "Everybody's Vespers" are attracting attention. The choir is composed of the young people of the church, directed by Halstead McCormack. For an inspirational, informational time come and participate.

First El Don Of Year On Campus

Complete to news pictures of international events the first regular edition of El Don, Santa Ana Junior college newspaper, made its appearance on the college campus yesterday. The five column, six-page weekly is one of the outstanding junior college newspapers in the United States, having last year been awarded All-American honors by the National Scholastic Press association.

Bob Swanson is the editor for the present semester. Frances Was is society editor and Franklin Guthrie, sports editor, John H. McCoy is the journalism director. Another feather in the local journalism department's hat was added recently when Prof. John W. Miller of the journalism school of Syracuse university used 10 pages of El Don stories and headlines in his new textbook, "Practical Exercises in Newspaper Copyreading, Proofreading and Makeup." The book is being used by the advanced journalism class at the college.

Alligators are the only reptiles capable of making a loud noise; their belching can be heard for more than a mile.

ANAHEIM MAN TO BE SOLOIST ON ABBEY HOUR

Albert M. Cranston, of Anaheim, will be the featured soloist at Melrose Abbey Sunday afternoon, September 27, and will be assisted by Pauline Graef Rhoades at the console of the cathedral organ.

Mr. Cranston is well known in musical circles of Southern California and has taken an active part in solo work with a number of the leading western grand opera companies as well as being recognized as one of the leading voice instructors in this section. The exceptional quality of his rich bass voice has won him numerous important roles with such organizations as the Los Angeles Opera company, the Metropolitan Civic Opera and the El Dorado company in which he was featured in Carmen.

Mr. Cranston will sing the following selections: "Two Grenadiers" (Robert Schuman); "Danny Boy" (Weatherly); "On the Road to Mandalay" (Ole Speaks); "Toreador Song" (from opera "Carmen" as sung by Escamillo) by G. Bizet; "Prayer" (from "Lohegrin" as sung by King Henry) by Wagner; "Calvary" (Paul Rodney); "Kingdom Am a Comin'" (Everett Evans); "The Holy City" (Stephen Adams).

Pauline Graef Rhoades who has been heard on numerous Musical Memory Hour programs will accompany Mr. Cranston, as well as play three organ selections: "Dawn" (Jenkins); "Cantilena" (Meyer-Helmund); and "The Enchanted Bell" (Haberler).

All programs at Melrose Abbey are open to the general public and begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

MIDWAY CITY, Sept. 26.—The Saturday Evening Dinner club is to meet tonight at the Midway City club house for its monthly pot-luck and card party, the time having been changed from the third to the fourth Saturday of the month. Mrs. J. H. Pryor and Mrs. Dave Wettlin will be co-hostesses at this affair.

Another of the nation's prominent dance maestros will be guest conductor of the "Your Hit Parade and Sweepstakes" program over the coast-to-coast Columbia network, from 6 to 7 p. m. today. "Your Hit Parade" features the country's 15 leading dance tunes of the week, as determined by an authentic nationwide poll.

Loaded with more hilarious comedy, Olsen and Johnson will return to the Shell Chateau, at NBC-Red network, surrounded by a galaxy of well known headliners including Ann Southern and Roger Pryor, screen stars, who will be presented in a dramatic sketch, and Donald Budge, tennis champion, whom the funsters will interview.

Cowboy tunes will fill the air when the cast of Alka Seltzer National Barn Dance presents the hour's program at 7 p. m. today, over the NBC-Red network. "Stomping at the Savoy," the most popular number on Jack Meakin's "request" list, will be a feature number on the Stringtime program to be broadcast over the NBC-Red network, at 6:30 p. m. today.

Featuring "I Can't Escape From You" and "Magnolias in the Moonlight," Benny Krueger's orchestra will provide instrumental interludes as it appears with Pick and Pat in "Pipe Smoking Time" over the Columbia network Monday, from 6:30 to 9 p. m.

Wallace Beery will head an outstanding drama cast Monday, when he is starred in a Lux Radio theater dramatization of Booth Tarkington's "The Plutocrat" over the coast-to-coast Columbia network from 6 to 7 p. m.

In their next to last broadcast from Chicago before starting out on an extended vaudeville tour, Horace Heidt and his orchestra will present another half hour of music featuring "sweet swing" over the Columbia network Monday, from 9 to 9:30 p. m.

Edith Meiser, who last year wrote the original radio play, "The New Penny," for Helen Hayes, will again prepare the famous actress' script when she returns to the NBC-Blue network for a series of broadcasts beginning Monday, at 9:30 p. m. Miss Meiser's drama will be based on the novel "Bambi," by the late Marjorie Benton Cooke.

The second of a special series of programs commemorating NBC's tenth anniversary, entitled "Ten Years in Retrospect," will be presented for a coast-to-coast NBC-Blue network audience Monday, at 7 p. m. EST.

Another program of religious and classical music will be presented by the Salt Lake Tabernacle choir and organ during a program over the Columbia network tomorrow, from 9:30 to 10 a. m.

Paul Robeson, famed Negro baritone, Caspar Reardon, the "swing harpist," and Jane Froman, well known radio singer, will be guest artists on the Magic Key of RCA program tomorrow at 11 a. m., over the NBC-Blue network.

Pierre de Lanux will address the American radio audience over the Columbia network in his alternate Sunday broadcast from France from 10:30 to 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

Lois Austin will play the title role of "Oked San," the story of a courageous Japanese woman who had a rose named in her honor by her native country because of her efforts to grow tea plants in California, during the Sperry Sunday Special over the NBC-Red network tomorrow, from 1 to 1:30 p. m., a new hour for this program.

Marion Talley's program tomorrow, from 2 to 2:30 p. m., over the NBC-Red network, with Josef Koestner and his orchestra, will include the premiere of a Chinese musical sketch by Koestner.

Smiling Ed McConnell will offer songs and philosophy, Palmer Clark's chorus and orchestra will be heard, and Irma Glen will preside at the organ during McConnell's weekly program tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., over the NBC-Red network.

"Fifteen minutes of music—forty words of continuity," is in brief the experimental design upon which the new program, "Melody," is founded. Presenting the artistry of Margit Hegedus, concert violinist, and Gaylord Carter, versatile organist, the new feature will be broadcast by KHJ and other stations of the Columbia-Don Lee broadcasting system from 2:45 to 3 p. m. tomorrow.

There are two salient facts about the current offering of "Previews and Encores" to be broadcast by KHJ and other stations of the Columbia-Don Lee broadcasting system from 4:30 to 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Nelson Eddy, popular baritone of stage, screen and radio, will be the star of "Vick's Open House" when the program begins its new series in the Columbia network tomorrow, from 5 to 5:30 p. m.

RICHARD'S BEAUTY STUDIO WILL OPEN HERE ON TUESDAY

One of the most completely equipped and modern beauty salons ever to make its presence in Santa Ana will be open to the public Tuesday, when Richard Guttman opens the doors of the new "Richard's Beauty Studio," 315 1-2 North Main street.

Guttman comes to Santa Ana after years of experience in some of the finest beauty salons in America and abroad. He was formerly with Best and Co., Fifth Avenue, New York, the New York City Carlton Hotel, and more recently, managed the May Company Salon in Los Angeles.

The eminent hair stylist brings a new method of treatment in hair dressing to Santa Ana, introducing a number of new features and ideas in coiffure design, he stresses the tailoring of hair to fit the full mood. Consultations and suggestions are gratis.

The new salon will occupy the space formerly occupied by the Casa Trabuca. A long term lease on the building was obtained through E. S. Goodner.

Marimba Player At Local Church

The marimba artist, Roy Graybill, will offer a musical program of unusual beauty and impressiveness at the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 7:30, a church announcement said today.

Mr. Graybill is well known in church and club circles for his marimba-xylophone "Melodies," and the Baptist church is happy to be able to present him to the Santa Ana public. There is a cordial invitation and welcome to all who may arrange to attend.

Let the minister, the Rev. Harry Evan Owings.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

MOST ACE—

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt has not yet begun to play some of the high cards in his campaign sleeve. He is not advertising them, even to all his political intimates. Some who have seen him with his coat off lately, however, have had a swift glance at an ace they did not suspect was in the deck. You may not believe it either when you see it played some time before election. Incredible as it sounds, it is a balanced budget for next year.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau has said there would be no news on the budget before November 3, but he may not have known, or cared to discuss, what is going on in budget-making. Acting Budget Director Bell has made no announcements, but he has been working for some months on estimates. There are good reasons for believing that he can now produce figures indicating an approximate balance, based as much on expectations of increasing revenue as upon a decrease in expenditures.

His work has progressed so far that one of the leading bond market advisory services sent to its banker clients a few days ago the confidential suggestion that "a balanced 1935 budget is a reasonable expectation."

ESTIMATING—

The budget figures relate to such far distant economic conditions that they are difficult for the government actuaries to calculate, but there is nothing to stop them from taking an optimistic view. It is almost impossible to guess accurately the extent to which better business will boost tax receipts for the year beginning next July 1, now nine months off. It is equally difficult to calculate relief demands. But the law requires a budget to be submitted to Congress in January, and it will be possible for the president to offer rather definite guesses before November 3 if he chooses.

Some unofficial experts used a pencil on the problem the other day and came out with only a $300,000,000 deficit for 1935 by cutting relief one-third, increasing revenues 12 per cent, deducting the bonus expenditure of the current year and neglecting to consider the probable heavy requirements of social security. Beyond these considerations is the broad field of recoverable government assets, which have been used this year to help in cutting the deficit in half, without decreasing spending.

Thus, it can be done, and it probably will be.

GAMBLE—

The criticism most frequently made of the New Deal by New Dealers is that Mr. Roosevelt allows his associates to make rash and reckless statements which pop into their extensive crania. As Mr. Roosevelt is so liberal with his help, probably no action will be taken against Comptroller of the Currency O'Connor for his last great gamble with fate. Mr. O'Connor made the statement that, if no banks failed within the ensuing year, he would take the air on a national hook-up September 30 and announce that the first year of American history had passed without a bank failure.

The reckless chance which Mr. O'Connor took may be gauged accurately by a fact he failed to mention, namely that he is the only man who could close the banks. While he could not close the banks, he could close the country in two weeks of September, you must consider the hazard that he might die and Mr. Roosevelt might appoint another comptroller who would close a bank. That is the only way it could happen.

If Mr. O'Connor keeps his health three more days, and makes his broadcast, you may expect some heckler to carry in his pocket, or how many should have been closed which still remain open.

HONORABLE MENTIONS—

Some people who know Professor Tugwell have mentioned in private that Agriculture Secretary Wallace may eventually become president of the University of Wisconsin. Newsmen thought they had something in that idea, until they approached people who know Wallace. His friends said they were fairly sure Wallace would not leave his government job, but that they had heard the story mentioned in respect to Tugwell.

There is, therefore, no good reason why anyone should mention either suggestion.

Wallace is anchored in agriculture, and it seems to be in the wind of Tugwell is control of the new farm tenant bill, in which Mr. Roosevelt took such interest recently. It will give him something to do in place of his resettlement administration, which now needs only a night watchman.

made by both sides. The forthcoming speeches by former Governor Lowden of Illinois are awaited with much interest. Mr. Lowden has a big following among Iowa farmers. He is believed to be the man on whom Governor Landon is leaning most heavily for advice on the farm problem.

The closeness of the contest in Iowa is not borne out by the polls, so many of which give Mr. Landon a decided lead. But while polls are a subject of much discussion, hardly any of them has included as yet a large enough cross-section of Iowa to be conclusive.

One thing is certain. Mr. Landon is much stronger in Iowa than Mr. Hoover four years ago. Likewise, the Roosevelt administration has come in for a great deal of criticism because of its spending policy, which means that there has been much talk about the waste of public funds. Even farmers who have received AAA benefits are reported to have developed doubts as to the wisdom of the policy, especially because of the income regulatory processes that accompanied the scheme.

On the whole, Iowa may be regarded as a pivotal state, in fact as much as any other in the Middle West because, this year, as goes Iowa, so goes Minnesota and South Dakota and southern Illinois. This agricultural belt has never been divided of Democrats, even in 1920 and 1924 and 1928, but the balance of power is held this year by about 10 per cent of the total vote in the rural counties. Thus, in Iowa in 1932, the rural areas shifted from a 60 per cent Republican vote to a 60 per cent Democratic vote. To put it another way, the Democrats started with a base of 40 per cent and added 20 per cent to their total. A shift of 10 per cent from four years ago, therefore, would make the race even. There is reason to believe that a considerable shift has occurred, but the puzzle revolves around the size of that shift.

Governor Landon had the edge today because of the impressive speeches he has made in the state. Whether he will retain that advantage depends to some extent on how he tackles issues other than the agricultural problem and what effect his campaign nationally has in the next couple of weeks in persuading the Republicans to go back to their party. For while Iowa is basically an agricultural state, it is also interested in whether the constitutional integrity of the American form of government is to be maintained, as well as its financial solvency.

There are no insects living in the ocean.

MISS MORROW IS HONORED AT TWO SHOWERS

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Miss Hazel Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morrow, of Villa Park, was honored guest at two recent showers. Miss Morrow will wed Vernon Armstrong October 2. A kitchen shower was offered as a pre-nuptial courtesy by her cousins, Mrs. Albert Brubaker Jr., and Mrs. Charles Pannier, of Anaheim, on Thursday evening in the home of their mother, Mrs. V. J. Stutheit, 2040 East Chapman avenue, and a miscellaneous shower was given last night in the home of Mrs. Royal Gammell (Viola Grout), with Mrs. Raymond Johnson (Crystal Hofer), as co-hostess.

At the Stutheit home decorations stressed a kitchen motif and when refreshments were served at one long table the centerpiece was a flower-filled aluminum pan which had the appearance of burnished silver, and nut cups were matching jelly moulds. These articles were presented to the bride-to-be at the conclusion of the refreshment course.

Whist Enjoyed
Court whist was the diversion of the afternoon. Mrs. Brubaker made high score and presented the prize, a set of attractive pot-holders, to Miss Morrow. An amusing assortment of gifts to the honor guest preceded the presentation of a number of articles in green and white.

Those bidden to share the pleasant event were Miss Morrow, Mrs. C. W. Morrow, Miss Charlotte Morrow, Mrs. Everett Berry, Miss Ethel Stutheit, Mrs. Oscar Stutheit, Mrs. Milford Richardson, Mrs. M. J. Armstrong, of Silverado; Mrs. Raymond Johnson, of San Clemente; Miss Betty Shield, Miss Eleanor Rohrs, of Santa Ana; Miss Ruth Johnson, of Tustin.

Games Entertain
Scrapbooks provided entertainment for guests in the Gammell home in Santa Ana, followed by an interval of games. The scrap books when completed were presented to Miss Morrow and numerous other lovely gifts were given her as she had followed the trail marked by a bright cord through the rooms of the home to find a table which held the daintily wrapped packages.

Those present other than the hostesses, Mrs. Gammell and Mrs. Johnson, were Mrs. H. Hofer, Mrs. C. W. Morrow, Mrs. Everett Berry, Miss Charlotte Morrow, Miss Marjorie Miller, Mrs. Benny Trueblood, Mrs. H. E. Baker and Miss Dorothy Payne Baker, Miss Audrey Hopkins, Miss Marjorie Johnson, Mrs. Percy Gammell and Miss Dorothy Gammell, of Santa Ana.

AWARD WINNER IN THRILLING DRAMA AT WALKER'S SOON

The Academy award winner, Bette Davis, is the star of "Satan Met a Lady," which tops the bill at Walker's next Wednesday and Thursday. The supporting cast includes Warren William, Alison Skipworth, Arthur Treacher, Marie Wilson and Winifred Shaw. Mystery and thrills are combined with humor, love and intrigue in this entertaining film based on a story by Dashiell Hammett.

"Miss," a story of true courage in an early California gold town, is the second feature. John Beal as the school teacher, and Anne Shirley as the spirited heroine, have the starring roles. This is an adaptation of the Bret Harte story by the same name. Guy Kibbe, Moroni Olsen and Douglas Dumbrille have important parts.

Short subjects are a variety reel and a color cartoon.

DELIGHTFUL COMEDY COMING TO STATE

"One Rainy Afternoon," a delightful comedy romance, "Forgotten Faces," a drama of love and devotion, are scheduled at the State theater on the mid-week bill next Wednesday and Thursday. The first depicts the series of hilarious developments which ensue when Francis Lederer kisses the wrong girl, Ida Lupino, in a darkened movie one rainy afternoon.

The drama brings Herbert Marshall and Gertrude Michael, in a story of a father's devotion to his daughter and the lengths to which he goes to protect from an old family scandal.

At a meeting of the Wino Dasi club of the chapter it was voted to hold a supper next Tuesday evening for the Masonic lodge.

Mrs. I. J. Lee Is Hostess To Club

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Members of the Olympic club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. J. Lee of Olive. Afternoon hours were spent sewing and crocheting. It was decided to have the October meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Ollie Kurtz on North Harwood street.

A special feature of the refreshments served was the cake, made by the hostess, which was in the form of a Noah's ark. Those participating were: Mesdames Ella Stimmermaker, Hart Pennington, W. C. Pritchard, Bert Hodson and Mrs. Lee.

Officers Chosen By Y. M. C. A. Club

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Officers elected at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. club No. 1 Thursday evening were Tom Powell, president; Cloyne Streech, vice president; Carl Crist, secretary and treasurer, and Bob Baines, athletic coach. The induction of officers will take place October 7 at the Y. M. C. A. and a group of young men who were members of the club last year will conduct the ceremony.

The first joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. groups has been set for October 14, with members of club No. 1 in charge. J. T. McInnis is advising. The members of Group No. 1 have assumed responsibility of interesting freshmen boys of the First Presbyterian church in the work.

Reunion Held By School Friends
VILLA PARK, Sept. 26.—An afternoon of reminiscences of high school days in Orange about 20 years ago was enjoyed Thursday when Mrs. Nellie Adams entertained a group, who graduated in the same class, at her home on East Collins avenue, Villa Park. This was the first time they had all been together in several years.

LEAGUE GROUP TO ATTEND MEETING

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Plans for attendance of a large group from the Immanuel Lutheran church Walther league at the Southern California convention of Walther leagues to be held at Long Beach October 3 and 4 were made last night at a meeting of the group, with Mrs. Julia Kusel presiding. Bible and topic study was conducted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. G. Webbering.

P.-T. A. BOARD TO MEET ON MONDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Announcement was made today of the Center Street P.-T. A. board meeting to be held Monday noon at the home of Mrs. Carl Otis Miller. The meeting will begin with a steak bake and the regular business meeting will follow. Mrs. Arthur T. Hobson will be in charge. As this is the first meeting of the year, all members are urged to be present.

GOMEZ' RETURN TO FORM LESSENS GIANT MOUND EDGE

Despite the presence of Carl Hubbell, Fred Fitzsimmons, and other standbys in the New York Giants' corner, Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, and other American leaguers doubt that the Yankees will be outpitched in the world series.

As Cronin points out, Vernon Gomez probably clinched the right to open another series for the Yankees by holding the Washington club to two hits the other afternoon. Gomez has traveled a long way along the hard comeback road in the concluding weeks of the left-hander's second consecutive poor season.

Starting the series has been the ambition of Gomez, and he has made an honest effort to earn the privilege. From 1931, when he broke in as a regular, until this season, Lefty has been the Yankees' top man in the pitching department.

All Gomez lost was his stamina. He is a slightly-built chap who hasn't been the same since his trip around the world two winters ago. It also is no secret that he did not take the best care of himself the first half of this season.

Gomez is fast again, and with all of his stuff is the match of any pitcher in baseball, including Hubbell.

COMPETITIVE ATHLETE
Charley Ruffing no doubt will be the Yankees' second choice. The large right-hander is a grand competitive athlete who is likely to dominate the situation on any given day.

Mighty few, if any, pitchers have a more varied assortment than Bump Hadley and Monte Pearson. Either of these right-handers may on a given afternoon be as baffling as the masterful Hubbell.

Respectable Johnny Broaca has been very effective since he once more picked up the swing of things in July. Colonel Ruppert's Club has superlative relief workers in the experienced Pat Malone and Johnny Murphy.

Cronin urges you to look at the records and see where any kind of a base hit at a given moment would have beaten Hubbell in the two games he took from Washington in the series of 1933. Cronin figures that the Yankees have the necessary power to produce these base hits.

The fact remains, however, that Hubbell prevented a rather capable Washington batting order from getting them.

CHOKED OFF AT SOURCE
Joe McCarthy no doubt will need plenty of pitching to match that of Hubbell, Fitzsimmons, Al Smith, Hal Schumacher, Frank Gahler, Harry Gumbert, and Dick Coffman.

While the Giants bank heavily upon the freak deliveries of Hubbell and Fitzsimmons, the left-handed Smith has a curve which may give the left-handed hitting Bill Dickey, Lou Gehrig, and "Red" Rolfe a few headaches.

Hal Schumacher has yet to find himself following a siege of arm trouble, so scarcely can be classed as dependable. But Frank Gahler and Harry Gumbert are strange faces to the Yankees who may well turn out to be exceedingly mysterious. Dick Coffman is no slouch at finishing games.

The Giants may have an edge in pitching, but it isn't the bulge that many imagine. This is particularly true now that Gomez seems to be back in the thick of things on the Yankee side.

The Giants play baseball closer to the vest than the Yankees, but the Polo Grounds pitchers will have to choke off the extra base hits of the Ruppert Rifles at the source if the National leaguers' slight defensive margin is to offset Murders' Row.

Viewed from any angle, it figures to be quite a series.

Tunney, Londos Tell Of Shakespeare Love

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Last lines from a London tower: the intelligence, charm and culture of United States athletes were given a jolly good boost during the visit to these shores of Gene Tunney and Christopher Tephophelos Londos.

British sports fans, reading the lovely statements of these two sophisticated gentlemen, undoubtedly had to believe that football and baseball stars are just off-season picolo players and ribbon counter salesmen.

The British press interviewed Tunney and asked him which verses of Shakespeare he read while resting on the rubbing table just before his Philadelphia and Chicago "boxing contests" with the slashing slugger, Jack Dempsey.

Gene quoted England's best known bard by the yard, then confided that his literary bible is Shaw's "Cashel Byron's Profession."

Asked by one journalist why a man of his culture and breeding took up boxing, Tunney replied: "Can you tell me any other way a man can make a million dollars in a half-hour?"

After reviewing literature, Gene discussed the case of Joe Louis. Tunney said "That boy is one of the greatest fighters the world has ever seen. Schmeckle the world has fair and square, but he wouldn't do it again. Louis learns something from every fight. His fighting brain is even more of an asset to him than dynamite to his fists."

Hearing this speech, British boxing promoter, Syd Hulis said, "If I could find an English heavyweight with half of Tunney's brains, I would make his fortune and mine."

Londos, probably much to the dismay of Jack Curley, Lou Daro and other actor-manager wrestling impresarios, received the British press in his flower-filled hotel suite as the "World Champion Wrestler." Londos engages in the sport known in Britain as "all in wrestling," the only difference between the game here and in the United States being that women also participate in Britain.

Recently the husband of a woman wrestler sued his wife for divorce, claiming she failed to split

Orange outgained and for the most part outplayed Whittier yesterday but lost, 13-0, on two runs good, respectively, for 87 and 90 yards.

In the first quarter Center Brown intercepted Russell's pass on his own 13-yard line and ran it back for a touchdown. And in the last three minutes of play, after Orange had driven to Whittier's 10-yard mark but was set back on a penalty, Dedmon faked a punt and circled right end for 90 yards.

Orange plays Oceanside at Orange next Friday. Starting lineups:

ANOTHER EHMKE
The name of Howard Ehmke seems destined to be prolonged in baseball. A 22-year-old nephew of the former major league chucker with the Athletics, also named Howard Ehmke, showed exceptional promise as a college pitcher for Brown university last spring.

Lester Rock, a six-foot, 180-pound first baseman for the Bensonville, Ark., club of the Arkansas-Missouri league, has been purchased by the Chicago White Sox.

Ingewood Upsets Saints

TEAMS BETTER ON OFFENSIVE THAN DEFENSE

Defense, rather than offensive maneuvers, will be stressed at Poly field next week when Santa Ana's Saints settle down to the grim and forbidding task of preparing for their first Coast league football game at San Diego October 10.

After yesterday's 13-6 defeat by Ingewood here, Coach Bill Foote welcomed this week's bye.

First, it will give him a chance to do something about the middle of Santa Ana's line which took quite a cuffing from Ingewood; second, it will give his crimples—Notably Tackle Ferris Wall and Fullback Bill Musick—a chance to mend. Wall sprained his ankle in the opening minutes of play and was assisted off the field. Musick hurt his wrist.

Most football clubs are stronger defensively than offensively at this time of year. But not Santa Ana and Ingewood, which took turns driving up and down the turf like it was late November.

Both Teams Show Punch
Ingewood gained 177 yards, made 8 first-downs. Santa Ana aggregated 145 yards and also had 8 first-downs.

The Saints scored in the first and last quarters. Santa Ana pushed over a touchdown in the third.

Two 15-yard penalties put the Saints in the hole before Ingewood first reached pay dirt. Still another took the pep-out of a spirited rally in the fourth period.

Near the end of the first quarter, Berry of Ingewood kicked to Safety Harold Tucker who came back to his 24-yard line. From there Santa Ana was penalized 15 yards for clipping, putting the ball on the 17. Stafford made 8 yards but the Saints were set back 15 more for an illegal shift.

Although forced Musick to punt from behind his own goal and Berry returned the ball to Santa Ana's 30.

From that point the Bay leaguers drove impressively to a touchdown. Berry made 6 yards, Heath 5 more. Berry made 1, Frank 5. Then Bruno charged through a hole at right tackle and went all the way, 13 yards. He also bucked across for the extra point.

Although decisively outplayed in the first half, the Saints dominated the third quarter. They got one touchdown and almost another before Ingewood took the play away.

A pass from Stafford to Nitta, from the Saints' 34 to the Sentinels' 48, generated the attack. Stafford hit the middle for 9. Musick reversed into right tackle for a first down on the 18. A pass went wide. Musick banded the left side for 5. Stafford faded back to pass, found his receivers covered and ran the ball clear to Ingewood's 2-yard line. Musick reversed into right tackle for the score but his placekick for the extra point was low and wide.

Penalty Again Costly
Santa Ana threatened again before the quarter ended. Center Don Warhurst intercepted a pass on the Sentinels' 25 and Musick personally bucked the ball down to the 6-yard line in three plays but again a 15-yard penalty hurt the Saints. This time it was leveled against the home guard for an illegal shift. Back on the 28, the Saints tried a pass, but it intercepted on the 27.

That made it Ingewood's turn and the Sentinels marched 73 yards for a touchdown in 15 plays. Berry and Bruno did the damage on quick-breaking plays off both guards, but the Sentinels finally called on Fullback Frank for the score from the one-yard stripe.

The Saints made a belated threat in the last three minutes, a 10-yard pass to Patterson and a 21-yard run by Capt. Nott putting the ball on Ingewood's 34 with a minute to go. The conflict ended with O'Connell snatching a pass on the 15-yard line, but out of bounds.

Santa Ana's backfield appears stronger than its line. Dick Horton and Monte Klepper outplayed the regular guards, Maddock and Moyer. Mark Stewart worked almost the entire game at tackle and got along all right. Ingewood got away with a seven-man line all day; passes might have helped the Saint running attack function. . . . Len Stafford again gave a good account of himself at left half. He's a harder running back than last year, and Ingewood's half-backs were all drivers, and looked good when the middle of the Sentinel line outchared Santa Ana's.

The line-up:

Ingewood (13) Ellet.....L.E. McComas.....L.T. Miller Niek.....C. Moyer Warburst Smith.....R.G. Maddock Nelson.....R.E. Stump Berry.....Q. Tucker Heard.....R.H. (c) Nott Frank.....F. Musick

Substitutions: LT—Johnson; LG—Klopas; C—Drake; RG—Morrison; RT—Strol; RE—Cole; Q—Stout; LH—Maughan; Buffington; RH—Rogers; F—Friebe.

Santa Ana—LE—O'Connell; LT; Engel; LG—Klepper; RG—Horton; RT—Stewart; RE—Smith; Johnson; McClure; Q—Kadowaki; LH—Nott; Hower; RH—Patterson; F—Hammaker.

DOUBLE IN BRASS
Three of the top hitters in the Southern association are former football stars. Beattie Feathers, former Tennessee star, was hitting .421 when he left the Knoxville club to give his attention to pro football. "Whitey" Wistert, former Michigan tackle, is batting .330 for Nashville, and Fred Singleton, who was an All-American tackle at Alabama, .333 for Chattanooga.

SOX SIGN ROCK
Lester Rock, a six-foot, 180-pound first baseman for the Bensonville, Ark., club of the Arkansas-Missouri league, has been purchased by the Chicago White Sox.

'Local Boy Makes Good'

Another of Santa Ana's famed 1931 football players who "made good" on the big-time is Earl (Tex) Harris, below, now first string quarterback at U. C. L. A. "Tex" played end for the Saints the year they won the Southern California prep championship. A 205-pounder, he is not to be confused with Merle Harris, 160-pound transfer from Riverside jaycee, who is now the Bruins' No. 2 quarterback.

Lopez Tries To Sidetrack Contract Here

Given his long awaited opportunity to regain his wrestling title by being matched with Dave Levin, big Vincent Lopez today tried to sidetrack his contest with Howard Cantonwine at the Orange County Athletic club Monday night but was balked in his attempt both by Promoter S. A. Sampson and the state athletic commission.

Either fulfill your contract at the Orange County Athletic club against Cantonwine or there'll be no fight, Lopez was informed.

The 225-pound Mexican claims that he doesn't fear Cantonwine, but that fears he might injure himself and enter the Levin bout at the Olympic Wednesday under a handicap.

Bill Hanson meets "Tiny" Roebuck in a rattling good semi, while Steve Streich faces "Baron" Ginsberg and the popular Bob Coleman opposes Jerry Work. The arena's box office will be open all day tomorrow to handle advance seat sale and accept telephone reservations.

LOYOLA WEARS DOWN SCRAPPY REDLANDS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Wearing down their opponents through force of numbers, the Loyola football team defeated a stubborn Redlands squad, 20 to 7, last night at Gilmore stadium before 18,000 fans.

The Bulldogs outplayed Loyola in the first quarter and went on to score in the second but were overcome by the powerful Lions in the second half when Coach Tom Lieb began throwing in fresh men.

PORTLAND, OAKLAND RENEW TITLE SERIES

PORTLAND, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Portland and Oakland meet tonight in the second game of their Pacific Coast league pennant play-off series. The Beavers won the first Thursday night.

Possedei or Liska was scheduled to pitch for the Portlanders, while Tobin was tentatively designated as the Oaks' hurler. W. C. Tuttle, league president, arrived last night to attend the remainder of the series.

DOUBLE IN BRASS
Three of the top hitters in the Southern association are former football stars. Beattie Feathers, former Tennessee star, was hitting .421 when he left the Knoxville club to give his attention to pro football. ## SINGLETON DOUBLES UP AS MATCHMAKER

Taking over the boxing matchmaking at the Orange County Athletic club personally starting this week, Promoter Bob Singleton today announced completion of arrangements to bring eight hard-hitting, outstanding fighters from Uncle Sam's battle fleet to meet local amateurs at the highway fighthouse Thursday night. He succeeds Virgil McCarthy.

Deciding that the best way to assure fans of the best-matched fights obtainable in amateur circles was to take care of the matchmaking himself, Singleton last night went to Wilmington, where he signed enough gobs to fill at least one side of an eight-bay card.

Among the navy fighters signed were Sailor "Wild Bill" Boyd, divisional heavyweight champion, who also holds the Seattle Golden Gloves title, to meet an opponent not yet selected. Singleton, who manages the Fullerton Caveman, Lupe LeMon, said LeMon will be in shape to meet the sailor here week after next.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have clinched at least a second place tie in the National league. They lead the Chicago Cubs two games, and if they win one of their two remaining games with the Cubs, the 1936 league championship will be theirs.

The New York Giants and Yankees will open their battle for the world championship Wednesday.

The Cincinnati Reds have apparently won out for fifth place, leading the Boston Bees by two games. The Brooklyn Dodgers, leading the Philadelphia Phillies by 12 games, finish seventh.

The Detroit Tigers hold second place in the American league by a game-and-a-half over Washington who will have three more games to play, which makes the second and odd legions up to 100.

Chicago White Sox, who tall the Tigers by 2-1-2 games, also have a chance to be second by winning all of theirs, while Detroit drops its remaining two. Cleveland, two games behind the White Sox, is virtually stymied in fifth, while Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia will finish sixth, seventh and eighth.

FINALS IN L. A. TENNIS SLATED FOR TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Francis X. Shields and Jack Tidball, primed by four consecutive straight-set wins, today will attempt to check the victory marches of the world's two greatest men's singles players in the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest tournament.

The husky motion picture actor will duel with Fred Perry, while the youthful Tidball meets Donald Budge in what are expected to be the most bitterly contested matches of the tourney.

Shields, third ranking American who has come back after a year's layoff, was an almost even choice to crack the winning streak of the debonair Englishman. Tidball has scored two upsets over players he was given little chance of defeating, and may continue his drive against the red-headed Oaklander.

The winners meet in the finals Sunday.

In a featured semi-final match yesterday, Alice Marble had one of the stiffest battles she ever encountered on a California court when she was forced to two sets and 14 games before scoring a 2-6, 6-3, 9-7 victory over solemn little Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

With the final set tied at 7 to 7, Miss Marble meets Caroline Babcock in the finals Sunday.

The Budge-Gene Mako and Shields-Perry doubles teams advanced into the finals with victories over less prominent opponents.

Shields and Perry, lacking the steady teamwork necessary to win quickly, battled two hours before blanketing the persistent bid of Tidball and Jacques Brugnon, veteran French player, in a five-set match.

After a two hour struggle they won 2-6, 6-4, 10-12, 6-1, 6-4 as darkness came and officials were forced to light up the court.

Budge and Mako advanced when they ousted a 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 win over John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, and Henry Culley, Santa Barbara, without extending their game.

In women's doubles Dorothy Workman and Dorothy Bundy won from Dr. Esther Barthosh and Josephine Cruickshank, 6-2, 6-3.

REDBIRDS CINCH TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—With championships decided, major league appetites had to be satisfied today with battles for second place and other first division berths that remain to be fought out in the final two days of the 1936 season.

The New York Giants and Yankees will open their battle for the world championship Wednesday.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have clinched at least a second place tie in the National league. They lead the Chicago Cubs two games, and if they win one of their two remaining games with the Cubs, the 1936 league championship will be theirs.

Party Of Five Off To Hunt Wyoming Elk

A party of five Orange county sportsmen left today for two weeks of elk and deer hunting in the Jackson Hole territory of Wyoming.

In the group were Lawrence Coffing, Santa Ana automobile distributor; Ed Holmes Jr., insurance; Roy Lanley, president of the Langley Oil company; Ben Osterman, rancher, and George Osterman, El Toro postmaster.

George Osterman left with Mrs. Osterman last night. He will join the hunters at Salt Lake.

RUFFING ONCE TOWN FIREMAN

(This is the second of a series on the Yankees and Giants, sports in next week's world series—Sport editor's note.)

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The men who pitch and catch for the New York Yankees:

Charlie Ruffing—Husky German from Nookville, Ill., where he played on the fire department team with Billy Rogell and Jim Bottomley, all three later becoming major league stars. Worked in soft coal mine as youngster. One of best hitting pitchers in majors. Probably would have been outfielder but for mine accident in which two toes were crushed.

Monte Pearson—Smallest of Yank pitchers. Looks like sophomore. Off field constantly smokes a college boy's pipe. Used to work in an ice-house at home in Oakland. Has very delicate movements. Came to Yankees because he was only major league regular the club could get for Johnny Allen, whom Manager McCarthy was determined to trade.

Vernon Gomez—Best dresser on team. During his decline the past two years from No. 1 southpaw of majors he has acquired more substitutions than any player in majors. While he was going bad early this year Ed Barrow, Yanks' business manager, had two detectives on his trail to find out what he was doing in his spare time. His decline dates from time he picked up 20 pounds in weight after a winter jaunt to Japan in 1935-36. When the pickers weigh his arm tightened up. When his arm was loose and limber he had more speed. Called "Goofy" by teammates. He is of Irish-Spanish extraction.

Irving Hadley—Real Yankee from old colonial stock. One of best educated players in majors, having attended Mercersburg academy and Brown university. Played football with Brown freshmen where he acquired nickname "Bump" because he hit hard. Likes to talk football. Always wears grin. Says Joe McCarthy is the only manager who ever let him pitch his way.

Pat Malone—The old railroad man from Altoona, Pa., promised his pal, Joe McCarthy, he wouldn't drink this season and has kept word.

FALL MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR CALVARY CLUBS

of Calvary church will complete their fall organization and start all weekly meetings next week, with the completion of the organization of the boys' clubs and the College and Business Young People's club, according to the director, the Rev. Don Milligan.

Each Monday, starting September 28, with Roy Tillery as director.

Under the direction of Miss Lucille Allen and the Rev. Mr. Milligan, the College and Business club will open Tuesday with a dinner. Here, also, a contest will be held, with Opal Knox leading one side and Winston Shaver the other. It also will be an individual contest with prizes for the person who holds the record attendance schedule, and for other points.

The girls club will have an organization meeting. Allen will direct the work of the seventh and eighth grade group on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ira MacNamee will handle the first and second grade and the fifth and sixth grade on Wednesday and Mrs. Buell Beard will assist with the third and fourth grade on the same afternoon.

And, as the days passed, she felt more at ease about Dickie. When she learned that Mrs. Watts' children were really as badly behaved as Ted had said, she threw the child psychology books into discard.

But the real blow for Kay came when she learned Ted was to be away from home on Christmas. He sent a radiogram from Manila, but she had looked forward so long to this first Christmas with him and Dickie that she was keenly disappointed.

She gave a Christmas dinner for some of their friends. Doris came with Ralph Bangs and they had a quarrel even before the turkey appeared. Monte Blaine was there and sat in Ted's place at the table. Dickie and Jerry Searles completed the party.

“Poor old Ted!” Jerry Searies lamented. “This is the first Christmas I’ve spent without him in years! Christmas day in ’17 we bombed an ammunition train. We were flying along at 3000 feet, and all at once, he said, ‘Let’s shoot some firecrackers, Jerry!’ I haven’t done it since I was a kid.” So there was that ammunition dump—

"I thought it was a train," Doris corrected. "Make your story stick together, Jerry."

"All right," Jerry went on. "It was an ammunition train. It was crawling along, so we dove down and let go with a bomb. Some fireworks, I can tell you! But there's nothing like that for Ted these days. He's changed—he's a chief pilot and he's married!"

Doris held a sprig of mistletoe over his head and kissed him and everyone laughed.

"Come on," Jerry said, "let's all go some place and dance! It's going to be my party. Ted's missing all the fun and I want to give a party for his wife!"

THE others looked at Kay. "Sato is here to stay with Dickie," Doris said. "Come on, Kay!"

Kay had forgotten about spending Christmas alone with Dickie.

She smiled and fled to her room to put on her white evening dress. When she came downstairs again she found Doris waiting with the three men. Jerry's voice rose above the others. "Across the bay!" he called out. "Come on, everybody!"

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25.—Mossy-fog along Sunset boulevard last evening, I came upon an obscure store called the Cinema Swap Shop. It is just that; a rendezvous for trades of all sorts, and you would be amazed at some of the things you may purchase. Even if you are in no mood to buy or barter, meandering through the shop is permissible and a pleasant hour may thus be spent.

The colorful tuxedo costume Rudolf Valentino wore in "Blood and Sand" is on sale for $25, although, alas, moths have made more havoc with the garments than did a stuffed picture bull. There is also a combination pen-knife and champagne bottle-opener which Sarah Bernhardt purchased in London in 1881. $6.50 takes it.

Ere I snorted the store's dank odor from my nostrils, the proprietor offered his services as guide. He is expecting, he confided, one of the late John Gilbert's dress suits, just as soon as John's estate is fully settled. I have no interest in a dress suit, but I hope the fellow will keep his eyes open for a winter overcoat. I will gladly swap for it a rubber check bearing the signature of a former important star.

Stuart Erwin, lunching at the M-G-M roundtable, remarked that only once during his picture career has he worn makeup. It was, he said, when he was working in a picture with Pat O'Brien and Jimmy Cagney. "Pat wore makeup to hide his freckles," Erwin revealed, "and Cagney because he usually needs a shave. I wore it too; I couldn't openly admit I had nothing to hide." Clark Gable, seated three seats beyond, chipped in, "Nothing but your face!"

Boulevard window shopping: Gloria Swanson, often a bride, cannot forego pausing at displays of wedding gowns. Store owners tell me Myrna Loy is seldom recognized by clerks or patrons, although she is a constant shopper. Bette Davis is a sucker for any sort of opening that is heralded by searchlights. Hats off to the pet shop proprietor whose empty showcase displays this sign: TOO HOT FOR PUPPIES IN THE WINDOW. COME INSIDE. Dixie Lee Crosby never misses "Dollar Day" sales.

Los Angeles has reached the point where a street excavation attracts as many idlers as a similar sight in New York. One boulevard par-fumeur uses colored water in his window display bottles, because California's hot sun evaporates the cutrate stores. Barber at chair No. 4 of the shop near Hollywood and Vine clipped John Gilbert's hair nine years, and has been doing Edmund Lowe's for eight. Jean Arthur is the most timid street-cropper I know; Dixie Dunbar the most intrepid. A sweater shop on the boulevard has a moving figure of a little old lady knitting; Maureen O'Sullivan never passes it without stopping to stare.

"CRAIG'S WIFE" TO CLOSE RUN THIS EVENING

A radical departure from the regular run film merchandise is made in "Craig's Wife" the current attraction at the Fox Broadway theater. In the adaptation Mary McCall Jr. has adhered rigidly to the biting dramatic theme of George Kelly's Pulitzer prize play. The bill closes tonight.

No varnishing has been attempted, no softening concessions made. "Craig's Wife" is penetrating character drama. Realistic, sometimes almost grim, it is a vivid story of the working of a selfish, self-centered woman's warped mind.

Loving only her home, seeking always to bend others to her will, she causes unhappiness to relatives and neighbors and finally drives her husband from her side. Basically human, the humorous situations serving as a contrast to the motivating sting, the story is one of a proud, unrelenting ambition that provokes heartache and tragedy.

In the title role Rosalind Russell gives a fine performance. It can be anticipated that her work will be acclaimed as among the

MARY BOLAND AND RUGGLES TEAMED AGAIN

Taking a theme almost as old as the theater itself, Producer Harlan Thompson has given a different touch and new comedy to "Wives Never Know" which opens at the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday. The story is built around the ancient institution of wifely jealousy and it turns out to be a rollicking farce.

"Yellowstone" is the companion picture in the double bill. "Wives Never Know" is built around the reliable comedy team of Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, supported by a cast of real performers.

The story is that of a botanist, Charlie Ruggles, who is extremely happy with his wife, Mary Boland. And she in turn is happy with him—until a celebrated author and lecturer, Adolphe Menjou, comes to Topeka.

By buying a thousand of the author's books, Ruggles persuades him to be their houseguest and then learns that they are college class mates. Menjou is an ultra-sophisticated, somewhat bawdy character.

Menjou fills the wife with all kinds of ideas that she has robbed her husband of happiness because she has kept him from leading a wild life and that he in turn has kept her unhappy by not giving her a chance to forgive him.

There are plenty of laugh-provoking scenes before a complicated domestic situation is cleared up, the pay-off coming when Ruggles and Menjou in a struggle fall from a balcony. Menjou thinking he is dying is married to Vivienne Osborne, and the picture ends with his discovery that what he thinks is his backbone sticking through his skin is in reality a rose bush, one of Ruggles' pets.

COLLEGE LIFE COMEDY TOPS BILL AT STATE

A rollicking college comedy, particularly appropriate at this season of the year as college students are again settling to their tasks, tops the program at the State theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is "Freshman Love," based on a story by that inimitable humorist, George Ade.

A glowing romance of campus life, thrills of crew races, and hilarious situations are combined in this laugh epic which has a musical background. The cast presents Patricia Ellis, Warren Hull, Frank McHugh, Joe Cawthorn, George E. Stone and Henry O'Neill. A novel dance step is introduced in this picture of youth, comedy and romance.

Joan Bennett and Cary Grant are starred in the second feature, "Big Brown Eyes," a thrilling story of how a manicurist and her sweetheart detective combined forces to bring a gang of criminals to justice.

The short subject on the program is "Clever Critters," leading dramatic portrayals of the season.

The cast is glove-fitting. John Boles as the husband, Billie Burke as the neighbor, Jane Darwell and Nydia Westman as servants, Dorothy Wilson as the niece and Alma Kruger as the aunt are particularly effective. It is a woman's picture.

"Lady Be Careful" is the companion picture, starring Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle, Larry Crabbe, Benny Baker and Grant Withers. In farce deals with the exploits of a mild young sailor who suddenly finds that he has gained a reputation as a demon with the women, and has been slated to make a date with the most inaccessible blonde of Panama City, Miss Carlisle.

"Lady Be Careful" opens aboard a battleship, where Larry Crabbe, a marine, is boasting of his prowess with women.

KAY FRANCIS AT BROADWAY

STARRING HERE IN RAMONA

an Old Cow Hand," and "Round-up Lullaby."

Warren Hull and Patricia Ellis are the romantic lovers of the second film, and the plot includes a daring hold-up by a gang of desperate bandits and their capture by the lovers who use the reward as their marriage dower. Other players are Hugh Herbert, Hobart Cavanaugh, Dorothy Vaughan and Clarence Wilson.

FILM ENDS RUN TONIGHT

"O'Malley of the Mounted," a red-blooded adventure story of the North, shows for the last time tonight at the State theater. George O'Brien combines romance and peril in this screen story by Bill Hart. Irene Ware is his leading lady.

"Rhythm on the Range" a romantic musical with many comedy highlights, and "Love Begins at 20," a comedy-romance with thrilling moments of adventure and danger, are the feature films scheduled for Walker's theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, of radio fame, have leading roles in "Rhythm on the Range" with lovely Frances Farmer supplying romance opposite Bing and dynamic Martha Raye aiding in excitement and lots of laughs. Six song hits are featured in this story of the return of a pair of cowhands to an Arizona ranch from a Madison Square Garden rodeo. Some of the most popular numbers are "If You Can't Sing It You'll Have to Swing It," "Empty Saddles," "I'm

MUSICAL ROMANCE AT WALKER

Bing Crosby and Frances Farmer are shown here in a scene from "Rhythm on the Range," which comes to Walker's theater Sunday for a three-day engagement.

STARS OF STATE COMEDY

Frank McHugh, Patricia Ellis and Warren Hull, stars of "Freshman Love" a rollicking comedy campus activities and romance, are shown here in a scene from the film which plays at the State theater three days starting Sunday.

ASTAIRE AND GINGER ROGERS AT WEST COAST WEDNESDAY

A sensational solo dance in blackface by Fred Astaire, the presentation of the newest ballroom rage, the Swing Waltz, some of the most gorgeous settings ever shown on the screen, a star-spangled supporting cast and a brand-new type of story for Astaire and Ginger Rogers, plus six of the catchiest melodies of Jerome Kern's career are among the attraction elements of the hilarious musical romance, "Swing Time."

Sparkling with scores of novel features that make it one of the most entertaining film musicals of recent years, "Swing Time," coming to the Fox West Coast theater next Wednesday marks the newest co-starring triumph of the famous dancing comedy stars.

Love affairs and complications feature the story plot, with Astaire endeavoring to rid himself of a haughty fiancée, Betty Furness, so that he can marry Miss Rogers, at the same time trying to discourage a glamorous orchestra leader, Georges Metaxa, who also has matrimonial designs on Ginger.

Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, teamed together as one of the funniest troupers ever to reach the screen, head the supporting cast as a pair of well-meaning but often embarrassing matchmakers, who innocently provide many of the complications, and much of

'RAMONA' STILL BIG FAVORITE AT WEST COAST

Acknowledged by critics to be one of the outstanding pictures of the year, "Ramona," starring Loretta Young and Don Ameche is playing to large crowds at the Fox West Coast theater, according to Manager Lester J. Fountain.

Done in soft-hued Technicolor, "Ramona" is a sympathetic, motion-stirring, romance-drama. The natural scenic grandeur of rolling meadow and mountain country lends itself to the motivating theme with telling effect.

Wisely refraining from deviation from the spirit of the Helen Hunt Jackson classic, the Lamar Trotti screen play is an expert demonstration of understanding of the entertainment and commercial values demanded by modern audiences.

The first sequences are pastoral romance in gay, lively fiesta atmosphere. The anticipated happy betrothal of Loretta Young, as Ramona, and Kent Taylor, as Felipe, is menaced by the opposition of his mother, Pauline Frederick, the possessor of some forbidden secret, who turns dramatic when she denounces Miss Young as an Indian and forbids the union. Miss Young is driven into the arms of Don Ameche, a cultured Indian, to whom she is attracted because of his friendship with Taylor. They flee the hacienda to be married by Pedro de Cordoba, a priest. The sustaining action of this episode provides delightful humor.

Moving to the second chapter, Miss Young and Ameche are blissfully happy and with their baby live close to earth and God. Miss Young, Ameche, Taylor, Miss Frederick, Miss Darwell, Katherine de Mille and Claire Dubrey give convincing and believable performances always in keeping with the story's spirit. Generally serious toned because of its fundamental structure, the film is not without its full quota of comedy, thrills and action to insure a pleasing balance.

BIG ENTERTAINMENT BILL AT WALKER'S

Captivating Shirley Temple in "Puss 'n' Boots" and loud-mouthed Joe E. Brown in "Earthworm Tractors" will be seen for the last times in tonight's programs at Walker's theater, Third and Bush streets.

Shirley's picture tells the story of her adventures as she eludes her governess and finally winds up singing on a radio program for the competing firm that her father is battling. The other film brings to the screen one of the episodes in the amusing life of Alexander Botts, salesman, whose comic adventures have run in the Saturday Post over a number of years.

breath-taking settings of the production.

Another unusual night club setting, an arresting expanse of the snow-clad Adirondacks in mid-winter, a theater, a modernistic dancing academy and several apartments and hotel suites comprise the rest of the backgrounds, in which the picture takes place.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1936

Miss Marjorie Hoff Weds At Lovely Home Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hoff's home, 1126 North Flower street, was setting for a ceremony of intimate charm last night when their daughter, Miss Marjorie Hoff became the bride of Loren Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hemphill of North Long Beach. The Rev. Louis Allen White, pastor of South Santa Ana Church of Christ, officiated.

Candles gleamed from tall candelabra placed throughout the rooms, with their decorations of lovely flowers. Members of the little wedding party took their places before a bank of ferns, against which were arranged white asters, larkspur and chrysanthemums in tall pedestal baskets.

A musical program preceding the ceremony included vibraphone solos by the bride's brother, Virgil Hemphill, who placed "I Love You Truly" and other numbers; Miss Ruth Switzer, who sang "Because" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied the piano by Miss Vivian Switzer. Miss Alice Whitten was at the piano for the wedding marches.

Attractive Bride
Mr. Hoff gave his daughter in marriage. She was a lovely bride in her floor length gown of white tulle, worn with a finger tip caught to her hair with a chaplet of pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white roses. The gold band which she was privileged to wear for the day was the wedding ring of her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Hoff of Pasadena, who was a bride 54 years ago. An additional touch of sentiment was given the young bride's costume by a dainty handkerchief which her aunt, Mrs. Frank Cannon had carried at her own wedding.

Reception
Mrs. Hoff was crowned in dark blue lace, and Mrs. Hemphill in Alice blue crepe, each with a corsage cluster of pink pompon dahlias. They were assisted in serving by the Misses Switzer, Miss Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith and the bride's cousins, the Misses Janet and Donna Howell of Pasadena; Lois Hoff, Fullerton and Mrs. Loren Cannon of Los Angeles.

Home in Gardens
When the newly-married couple left last night, Mrs. Hemphill wore a blue tulle frock with matching accessories. They will make their home in Gardens, near where the bridegroom is employed as a radio man with the Northrup corporation.

Present for the wedding were the parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hoff and Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill and son, Virgil; with the bride's grandmother and grandfather, Mrs. Anna Hoff of Pasadena and Philip Michael of this city; Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Cannon, Louis Hoff, Clifford Bartholomew, J. B. Smith; the Misses Mary Armstrong, Josephine Michael, Alice Whitten, Vivian Switzer, Ruth Switzer, Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hoff and daughter, Lois, Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hoff, Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Howell and daughters, Janet and Donna, Pasadena; Messrs. and Mesdames V. M. Tyler, T. V. Tyler, Robert Slater, A. T. Hackett, the Misses Marian Tyler and Betty Harter, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Loren Cannon and Mrs. E. Tatro, Los Angeles; Miss Ada Anderson, Fullerton; the Rev. Louis Allen White.

New Child Study Group Outlines Activities

Recently organized, a mothers' child study group held its first fall meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Loughton, 1017 Kilson Drive, where dessert was served to precede other events of the day.

"Building a Successful Family" and "Education is not What it Used to Be" were subjects for discussion yesterday.

Initial meetings of the group occurred this summer, when mothers and their children held picnics at nearby parks and beaches. Plans for the formal meetings of the winter season were made during these outdoor sessions. Other arrangements were completed at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. L. D. Spencer, 1301 South Van Ness avenue.

It was decided to hold regular meetings the second Thursday of each month, and to follow a program outline suggested in the Parents' magazine.

Present were Mesdames Kenneth Loughton, Josh L. Wilson, C. E. White, John W. Fraley, L. D.

Wait A Minute

Out country way are many charming spots easy of access. Drive to Lemon Heights or Panorama Heights for breath-taking beauty. Did you ever bend way over and look at the world upside down, so to speak? Try it while on Lemon Heights looking over into Peters Canyon. It will give you a new perspective and a new awe at the wonderful colors. Visit Santiago creek and its new park development. . . . Nearby on Valencia street is the very attractive home of the J. Homer Andersons. Typically Californian, the home and its gardens seem to breathe hospitality. . . . Peacock's Crossing reads a sign near the William Strange ranch on West Seventeenth street. Do you know what it means? We had queer ideas, and then one evening just at sunset were privileged to catch a glimpse of half a dozen or more peacocks roosting far up in the air on a telephone pole. Peacock's Crossing it is. . . . Home town boys who made good in a big city Dr. Claude Hayward on a flying trip to Santa Ana to visit his parents, the H. S. Haywards. Dr. Claude has been in the G. E. laboratories at Schenectady and Philadelphia ever since he graduated from Caltech. He finished at Poly HI with the class of '22. . . . Marian Brownridge and Dot Gowdy shopping for groceries. Wonder who was to do the cooking? . . . Mae (Native Daughter, Mrs. W. A.) West talking over the phone to the obligato of a parrot in the background.

Add to disconcerting moments when Gertrude (Mrs. Elmer Burr) Burns and Grace (Mrs. Arthur) Lyon, chauffeured by the latter's daughter, Mary Zaiser, stopped for Sunday morning breakfast 'way up in the Canadian wilds and decided to sit at the counter instead of seeking a table. Mrs. Burns, starting to order bacon and eggs, heard with horror, "Pardon me, Madam, but this is the bar!" . . . Nobody more excited at the races in Pomona than Earl (Coroner) Abbey and Charles (Attorney) Swanner. . . . Had you heard that Patricia (Mrs. Kenneth) Keefe, lately of Washington, D. C. and her cunning small daughter expect to come south for a winter visit at Our Village? . . . For the loveliest hair, just like spun moonbeams, we nominate Carol (Mrs. Benjamin J.) McMullen. . . . Nominations for grand summer tans: Barbara (Mrs. Paul) Hales; Georgina (Mrs. Ray) Hartwright; Ruth (Otto) Baker. . . . See that bright smile? That's Henry (Radio) Williams. Know why? He just got his annual pass to all the big games. . . . Lella (Teacher) Thrasher and Mary (Teacher) Henderson buying some gawjus flowers. Wonder who the lucky person was on the receiving end?

The Saddle Pals got rained on while riding in the pageant at Pomona's big fair. But their black horses got so much attention that nobody cared. . . . Harry (Swimmer) Terington surely keeps those Fourth street store windows shining, and Brother Jack tells you where to sit in one of the theaters. . . . Frigid, very charming and dark-eyed. Perhaps you might better recognize her as Mrs. Proctor F. Cook. What! Isn't that name familiar either? Well, then, how about Esther (Mrs. Ted Coo-Coo) Cook? . . . Jack (Market Manager) and Margaret (Home Econ. Director) Lackland plan to build a new home in the near future. . . . Marge (Tennis) Luderbach will soon make the last play in a love-love game. We understand she's to marry an Anaheim chap. . . . Lillian Humphrey (Irvine post-mistress and Mrs. Boyd) Mungler, quite striking in a knitted suit in the hues. . . . Speaking of the name, did you ever stop to think how stunning the Mungler sister are? Scattered all over Orange county, Edith (Mrs. Guy) Gilbert, her twin, Esther (Mrs. Gil) Kraemer, Ruth (Mrs. Robert) Benson, Nellie (Mrs. "Bud") Mitchell, Kate (Mrs. Walter) Cornelius, and Cynthia (Mrs. Bennie) Osterman.

Betty (Mrs. Godfrey) Spielch moving to Van Nuys where Friend husband, the Lieutenant, has been transferred to army headquarters. Betty was one of the summer's prettiest brides. . . . Lorna (of the perfectly groomed blonde hair) Barry isn't much interested in the departure of Hubert Nall Jr. for U.S.C. to follow in the footsteps (toothprints) of his dad, who is rather a big gun in U.S.C. lecturing and consultation circles. Clever by the way, of Frances (Mrs. Doc) and Bert (Doc) Nall to arrange it so that Hubert is the image of his dad, even to the tricky little misplaced eyebrow, while Frances (also Jr.) is exactly like her maw. . . . Jean (Red-Head) Mulbar will have to replace the divots when she practices golf. . . . Virginia Curry might help her. . . . Velma (Mrs. John) and Sky (United Press) Dunlap running the home while Marie (Singer) and Holmes (Singer-Rancher) Bishop go sky-larking eastward. Saw them at church with Velma's good looking brothers. . . .

Who recalled that Ruth Pursley, maid-of-honor Joan Blondell when she Lohengrined with Dick Powell aboard the Santa Paula, was a former Sandy Ann girl? . . . Jeanne Kay (alias Mrs. Norton Gaston), expected to do guhrand work in "Hay Fever," (Community Play) has acquired a saucy black pup since returning from the Orient. Says it is for Son Pierre, but we doubt it.

Party Guests Are Informed Of Betrothal

Bidding a group of her intimate friends to spend an evening in the enjoyment of monopoly, Miss Elizabeth Wassum last night revealed to them the romantic news of her approaching marriage to a young Balboa business man, Ernest H. Walthe.

The party was staged in the Wassum home, 1870 Fruit street, where Mrs. Howard A. Wassum assisted in entertaining her daughter's friends. Miss Wassum wore with her pretty semi-floral frock of the crepe, a shoulder spray of gardenias sent by her fiancé.

Announcement of the engagement was reserved until the refreshment hour which succeeded the lively monopoly contest in which Miss Ruth Stutsman was rewarded and Miss Peggy Seba was consoled.

Mrs. Wassum, assisted by her niece, Mrs. George Seba, re-arranged card tables in an all-white decorative effect with clusters of anemones and white rosebuds to center the pretty linen covers. As guests unfolded their napkins, they discovered small cards on which were inscribed the names, "Elizabeth and Ernest," with the date of November 1.

The inviting Hawaiian salad course with its crisp little macaroons, tea and food fruitade, was seasoned with excitement as party guests demanded to hear more of the bridal plans. Miss Wassum informed them that it is to be a Sunday afternoon wedding in the George Seba home on Tustin avenue. For Mrs. Wassum herself is recuperating from a recent serious illness, so the rites will not take place in the family home.

Mr. Walthe, who telephoned from Balboa shortly after the news had been disclosed, is the son of Mrs. May Walthe of Long Beach. His schooling was all in northern California where his father, the late Frank Walthe, was one of the big ranch owners, and represented a pioneer family of the north. The family still retains extensive ranch property there.

Miss Wassum, only daughter of Mrs. Emma King Wassum and the late Howard Wassum, is a graduate of Tustin Union High school. Later she attended Santa Ana Junior college and was prominent in the Moav service club.

Close friends invited to hear this first announcement of the betrothal and wedding plans of their hostess, included the Misses Genevieve Glover, Peggy Seba, Genevieve King, Virginia Taylor, Ruth Stutsman, Betty Sealey, Wilma Potter, Lois Murray, Arden Murray, Blanche Siegel, Marian Dickie, Frances Hanlon, Betty Gabriel, Jane Hill, Mary Emil Majors and Jane East, with Mrs. Wassum and Mrs. Seba completing the group.

Mr. Christie, whose work is in northern California, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Le Roy Christie, now of Washington, D.C., where Mr. Christie is associate chief of the civil division.

MRS. FLOYD KLINGENBERG

Among Santa Ana's pretty autumn brides is Mrs. Floyd Klingenberg, who is Miss Katharine Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weber, 1906 South Sycamore street, exchanged vows with Floyd Klingenberg at evening rites on September 4 in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Klingenberg, 702 South Sycamore, Laguna Beach.

Club Luncheon Shared With "Suitors" of Long Ago

Secrets which a gay group of laughing schoolgirls shared about their beaux almost thirty years ago, were recalled and smiled over Thursday when many of those same suitors, now substantial men of affairs, joined their wives for one of the Auld Lang Syne club luncheons.

This event was the bi-monthly meeting of the long established group, and was held with Mrs. W. D. Finn, 1224 French street. Members found the home colorful with autumn flowers, with especially lovely little pompano dahlias in clear golden yellow, reserved for decorating the luncheon table.

Each member contributed some inviting dish to the menu, with the club represented by Mrs. Grace Finn, Mrs. Mabel Lowell, Miss Percie Head and Mrs. Emma King Vassum, Santa Ana; Mrs. Agnes Oldfield, Atascadero; Mrs. Rose Hill, Mrs. Fannie Newsom, Long Beach; Miss Mettie Chaffee, Mrs. Carrie Chaffee, Mrs. Estelle Harper, Mrs. Mina Newsom, Mrs. Lida Mitchell, Mrs. Agnes Stanley, Garden Grove; Mrs. Jennie Johnson, Laguna Beach; Mrs. Carrie Small, Whittier.

Their luncheon guests were Dr. W. B. Hill and Messrs. Edward

Miss Bradley Inspires Gay Bridal Event

Presiding at a shower of pretty appointments last night, Mrs. W. M. Limbaugh and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Jordan, had the pleasure of complimenting Miss Eloise Bradley, whose marriage to Walter Limbaugh, son and brother of the two hostesses, will take place in November.

The Limbaugh home, 705 Cypress avenue, was setting for the pleasant hospitality, which reached its climax with the presentation of miscellaneous shower gifts to Miss Bradley. In addition, she received an assortment of canned goods, whose labels had been removed by the donors.

The early part of the evening was spent playing Hollywood bridge, in which Mrs. Charles Pryor, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Stanley Ipsen, of this city won prizes for scoring first and second high. Miss Bradley's sister, Mrs. Ernest Crumrine, was consoled.

Serving a sandwich course followed by a delicious dessert, Mrs. Limbaugh and Mrs. Jordan decorated tables in green and yellow appointments which included clever little nutcrackers.

In the group in addition to the hostesses and their honoree, Miss Bradley were Mesdames George Bradley Wayne Crumrine, Ernest Crumrine, Stanley Ipsen, C. P. Carlson, W. A. Butterfield, N. N. Jordan, Arthur Palmer; the Misses Margaret Haines, Dorothy Carlson, Esther Jansen, Santa Ana; Mrs. Paul Hottel and Mrs. Charles Pryor, Fullerton; Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Holford, Miss Sophie Padias, Tustin; Mrs. C. A. Browning, Long Beach; Mrs. R. S. Limbaugh, Los Angeles.

Native Daughters Give Card Party in Home Of Mrs. Walters

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters' attractive home, 1605 East Fourth street was setting Thursday afternoon for a benefit card party which came as the first of a series of events under auspices of Santa Ana chapter Native Daughters of the Golden West.

One single blossom in a pretty vase centered each table where dessert was served to precede card play. Supervising this pleasant interval was the general party committee, composed of the parlor president, Mrs. W. H. Mize, and Mrs. Walters, Mrs. William West, Mrs. Arthur Edwards, Miss Gladys Edwards, Mrs. D. W. Ellis, Mrs. Walter Hickey and Mrs. Gertrude Etzold. Each of this group received a corsage bouquet from Mrs. Mize.

Table prizes in cards were hand-painted articles, the work of Mrs. Walters. These were won by Mesdames Gertrude Etzold, F. C. Pope, William West, Henry Pankey, D. W. Ellis, Gordon Evenson, W. M. Maag, J. Zellan, Z. B. West, W. W. Kays, Carl Snyder, Raymond Marsile, Floyd Howard, Ernest Winblier, Arthur Edwards and Miss Gladys Edwards.

Mrs. Edwards also won the grand prize, a handsome doll with a complete wardrobe.

Just a Mere Club Enjoys Luncheon

Members of Just a Mere club were entertained Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. E. A. Daniels was hostess in her home, 2683 Oak street. Luncheon was served to precede a session of cootie in which Mrs. Eula Wheeler, Mrs. Agnes Hopkins and Mrs. Bessie Gleason won prizes for scoring first, second and third high.

Sharing the affair with Mrs. Daniels were Mesdames Esther Maddox, Eula Wheeler, W. R. Ellis, J. H. Farrell, Agnes Hopkins, Eltha Mustard, Louis Endres, Bessie Gleason, M. M. Hanson, Pearl Nelson, Lena Hanson.

Mrs. Endres will be hostess at the next meeting, October 7.

Mrs. Alice Hiehal, 2526 Santia avenue, will succeed Mrs. Lockhart as director of the nursing bureau.

The Milton Johnsons Entertain in New Ranch Home

Having moved so recently from 1815 Greenleaf street to a delightful ranch home on Placencia avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Milton O. Johnson and their young son and daughter, Irvine Jr. and Anita Jean, are thoroughly enjoying the new location. The young people are especially happy in the opportunity to attend Placencia schools, and the experience of taking the school bus for the trips to and from.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Johnson staged one of their first social affairs when they were hosts at an intimate little dinner in compliment to Mrs. B. Z. McKinney, departing today for an extended visit in her former home, Richmond, Ky.

Flowers and candlelight gave charm to the table where covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney C. Russell and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Burkett.

Reflections

By E. WAGNER

SALESPeople

The business of selling calls for the very highest type of character. Those who are the most successful know their business and merchandise thoroughly. They can earn the confidence of their customers through a straight-forward policy of fair dealing—they have your interest at heart as well as that of their firm's. When a sale is consummated it is fair to both buyer and seller. High pressure salesmanship is taboo.

In the field of retail selling, the establishments which insist upon truth as the basis of each transaction are the ones which are prosperous. We trade in these establishments because of implicit confidence, both in the merchandise and in the salespeople. We trust them, because of their reliability. Their recommendations are taken at face value. They are friends, and as such, we enjoy each transaction with them, and if for some reason they leave their employment, we miss them.

Salespeople take on the characteristics of their employer, they are the lengthened shadow of the boss, his ethics are theirs, his respect for truth in advertising, in the demonstration of his merchandise, and the sales arguments he propounds are the vanguard of banners by which his clerks are guided.

The merchants of Santa Ana who have used such discrimination in their choice of salespeople are the ones with whom we trade with the least sales resistance.

COME TO CHURCH

The Church is the meeting place for God and His People

A SERMONETTE

"COME TO CHURCH CAMPAIGN"

By REV. HARRY R. MILLER, Evangelist of Alabama, at the Four Square Gospel Church

EVANGELIST HARRY R. MILLER of Alabama

The Home

Proverbs 22:6—Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Our home is the one spot on earth where is concentrated the largest percentage of earthly interests.

The multiplied thousands that surcharge through the streets of our great cities are made up of individual souls, each of whom tonight will seek some place they call home.

Whether it be magnificent palace with brilliant lights, gorgeous tapestry, costly divans, and a retinue of servants, or whether it be rickety garrets or worn and wretched hovels, or damp and dreary cellars with no light, no music, no smile, nothing but misery, a crust of bread and a bed of straw, yet in all of their wretchedness these places are the homes of human beings.

Love builds homes, gold builds houses.

The homes of the American people are the foundation stones on which the structure of the Republic rests.

The downfall of every man and woman, who leaves the path of righteousness, can be traced to some defect in the home.

Let me visit your home, and if you will take time to tell me what is in your home by your own choice and then allow me to study the titles of the books and magazines in your library and let me listen to your conversation, give me the privilege of talking to your neighbors and servants, and allow me to study the friends with whom you associate, and I will endeavor to tell you what you have been, what you are, and what you will be but for the grace of God.

The nation can never rise higher than the moral life of its people, and its moral life rests solely upon religion and the home. When the home is full of weakness, the government is full of danger. There is no danger of getting too much religion if you will mix a little common sense with it.

Broken lives and broken homes seem to be inseparably connected. Our homes are the streams constantly pouring forth their current either to brighten or damn the land, and they should be the center of all that is noble, godly, inspiring and great.

Every great nation that has risen to the heights and has gone down to the depths can trace its rise and fall, success and failure, directly back to its homes.

Sixty-five per cent of the boys and girls in our reformatories come from homes where the mother and father were divorced.

Is your home a home of prayer, love, sunlight and happiness? They all run together like ocean currents. Or is it a house of discontentment, sin, biting, cutting, lacerating oaths, loveless, dark and gloomy?

Would it embarrass you for me to come to your home and ask for your family altar Bible? This country needs to witness for Jesus Christ through the home and parental authority.

After all is said and done, "The hand that rocks the cradle, is the hand that rules the world."

What a vast responsibility rests upon you, mother, and upon you, dad!

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Brain Twizzlers

By Prof. J. D. Flint

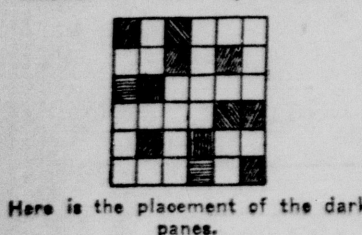

Mr. P. Tunia, the florist in a small town, was besieged with orders for flowers when a local wedding was taking place. He had prepared for the sale with many dozens of roses of different colors.

First a wealthy man came in and ordered half of all the dozens of roses in the shop. These were sold to him and an extra half dozen thrown in free of charge. The next customer purchased a third of the remainder and was given a third of a dozen extra. A third customer got a quarter of what remained and three-quarters of a dozen extra. Another person bought a fifth of the remainder and was given an extra fifth of a dozen. There were 19 dozen roses left.

How many dozen had been in the shop at first?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

Here is the placement of the dark panes.

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

OF the 100 or more requests for special commemorative stamps received by the U. S. Post Office Department, one is for a stamp marking the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Such an issue would be made in 1938.

There is hardly a probability that any more new stamps will be issued this year, except the first of the long-awaited Army and Navy series.

Canada is well ahead with plans for a series of King Edward VIII stamps, and is expected to produce these by the first of the year.

Following release of the Rizal commemorative stamps, the Philippines are preparing a series of six stamps marking the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Manila early next year. These stamps, however, will be ready for sale Oct. 15. Following this set, the islands will issue a series of three stamps Nov. 15, commemorating the first anniversary of the commonwealth.

A record sale of 30,000,000 of the new King Edward VIII stamps was made on the first day of issue. Most of these probably were taken up by speculators who figured on withdrawal of the design after the five days' trial.

Meeting of the Spanish-American Postal Congress in Panama City during October is occasion for Panama's issue of a new series of stamps commemorating the event. There will be 10 values for ordinary postage, and six for airmail.

Claude Van Antwerps Enjoying Autumn Travels in the North

Thoroughly enjoying their northern trip and their stay in Victoria, B. C., where they have been spending the current week at the Empress hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Van Antwerp of this city and Balboa have written glowing accounts of their travels to Santa Ana friends.

The northward trip was planned to benefit Mr. Van Antwerp, recuperating from a recent serious illness. That it is having the desired effect, seems indicated by the fact that he anticipates securing a guide and going fishing when they arrive at Grant's Pass on their homeward journey. They expected to leave Victoria yesterday for Vancouver for a few days' stay before taking a boat for Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Antwerp left for the north on September 12, and stopped in Palo Alto to visit Dr. and Mrs. Ward Slattery. Mrs. Slattery made many friends in this city while on a summer visit to the Van Antwerps, and all will be interested in hearing that Dr. Slattery is slowly recovering from the serious illness which called her east. He was stricken while doing post graduate work at Columbia University.

No date has been set for the Van Antwerps' return to Santa Ana. Mrs. Van Antwerp declaring that they would remain as long as it seemed to be benefitting Mr. Van Antwerp's health. They will visit in Portland and in San Francisco as they motor southward.

Surprise Luncheon Has Setting In Home Of Celebrant

Mrs. Walter Cook's birthday anniversary occasioned a surprise party Tuesday afternoon in her home, 1800 McFadden street, where a group of friends assembled for a luncheon and other pleasant features.

Leaving home for a short time, Mrs. Cook returned to find that guests had arrived with all in readiness for serving luncheon. Mrs. Fred Cole had baked a birthday cake which was presented to Mrs. Cook together with a piece of Spode ware to match the set with which her dining table was arranged. Pastel-hued asters and pink antigonon formed an attractive centerpiece.

Games were played during the afternoon, with prizes going to Mrs. Bruce Stockton, who scored high in auction bridge; Mrs. J. E. Prentice, high in contract; Mrs. Roscoe Cook, high in monopoly; Mrs. Henry Boosey, high in anagrams.

Present in addition to Mrs. Cook were her mother, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Edward Stockton of Los Angeles; Mrs. J. E. Prentice and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gustin, Palo Alto; Mesdames Otto Powell, Orange; John Gould, Bruce Stockton, Roscoe Cook, Parrie Salter, Fred Cole, Herbert Myer and daughter, Sharon Lynne, Santa Ana; Ralph Stone, William Whitehead and Henry Boosey, Irvine; with Master Emery Salter, Anaheim.

CRUISE RECALLED

Miss Leola Schroeder and her brother, Kenneth Schroeder, 2227 Lincoln avenue, and their cousin, Robert Witt of Orange, attended a reunion of the members of an Alaskan tour made this summer. The reunion included a covered dish dinner held recently in the home of George Clark of Glendale.

The home and its furnishings as well as the porch and garden furniture had been cleverly designated as Alaskan cities or parts of a boat. The davenport bore a placard with the legend "Sitka" and Mr. Clark's study was named "The Pilot House". The dining room was decorated with small totem poles that Mr. Clark had collected on the trip. Photographs and moving pictures taken on the trip were shown, and trip logs and poems written about the voyage were read and discussed.

WEDDING CARDS OUT

Many Santa Ana friends of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Salisbury of Anaheim, and their daughter, Miss Selma Marie Salisbury, have received invitations to the marriage of Miss Salisbury to Kenneth F. Darrow, an event to be held Sunday afternoon, October 4, at 4 o'clock in Melrose Abbey.

Close family friends will be received later at the Salisbury home, 403 South Citron street, Anaheim. Innumerable showers, teas and dinner parties have been given for the bride-elect since formal announcement was made of the betrothal. Mrs. Salisbury, her mother, has been an instructor of nurses for the past 15 years at Orange County General hospital.

JAYSEE BUCCANEERS

Their first get-together of the new school year was enjoyed Thursday evening by junior college Buccaneers who met in the home of Robert Bradley, South Van Ness avenue.

President Bill Sheppard conducted a business meeting, after which cards were played and refreshments were served. Present in addition to the host, Robert Bradley were the adviser, T. E. Williams and Bill Sheppard, Max Galusha, Neil McDaniels, Harold Pottorf, Harry Blades, Clifford Lee, John Rabe, Joe Yocam, Walter Davis, Dave Sheppard, Robert Fowler.

DE GLADE DAMER

Adopting new by-laws and taking care of other business matters, members of De Glade Damer met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Kye, 1430 South Parton street.

In serving refreshments at the close of the affair, the hostess had assistance of Mrs. William Gray. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Richard Grimes.

NURSES' MEETING

The fall get-together of public health nurses was held Wednesday night at Jack Fisher park. After picnic dinner, the nurses gathered around the fireplace for a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. Max Holmes, president. Later vacation experiences were discussed, and reports were given on the bi-annual nurses' convention held this summer in Los Angeles.

Nurses from the county who were present were Miss Erma Cotton and Mrs. Roy Ropp, Laguna Beach; Mrs. Gretha Clark, Newport Beach; Miss Adelaide Price, Anaheim; Miss Imogen Abbey, Fullerton; Mrs. Ellen Smith, Tustin; Miss Irene Preble, Brea; the Mesdames Helen Mark, Helen Granlich, Velma, Jastis, Clarissa Fowler, Max Holmes, and the Misses Margaret Kuehl, Edith Pithie, Anna Ekdahl, Grace Penman, Ruth Richards, Margaret Van Scoyoc, Esther Hake, and Isabelle Durgan, Santa Ana.

HAPPY REUNION

A happy reunion of relatives is occurring this weekend in the home of Mrs. A. W. Getchell, 406 Halesworth street, where she and her sister, Mrs. Mary Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, are awaiting the arrival of other members of the family.

Mrs. Davis arrived Wednesday. She and Mrs. Getchell will be joined Sunday by their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saelzer and another sister, Mrs. Jennie Farr of Cleveland.

A FISH STORY

Leaving late last night for San Diego, a little party of enthusiastic devotees of Isaac Walton were anticipating their "annual" fishing trip from one of the barges off the San Diego coast.

In the party were Messrs. Loyal K. King, Milton O. Johnson, Jack Gold, Ernest Vosskuhler and Corwin Silcott. They expected to leave the shore at 3 o'clock this morning, and with any luck at all, return late tonight with fish enough to remember all their friends.

Parent-Teachers

Roosevelt

Speaking of the necessity of parents and teachers cooperating in child leadership, James B. Utt gave an address Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Roosevelt P.-T. A. in the school.

Mrs. Charles Brisco, past president of the association, read an article from the national Parent-Teacher magazine.

Mrs. Harry Fink, new president of the association, was presented with a corsage bouquet, as were Miss Verna Wells, principal, and members of the faculty.

Executive board members served as hostesses during the refreshment interval, when tables were decorated with flowers.

Magnolia Circle

Enjoying a school-day party, members of Magnolia circle, R. N. A., were entertained Thursday in the home of Mrs. E. U. Farmer, 1221 South Parton street.

Paper bag lunches were served at noon while guests were seated on the lawn. School-day songs were sung at intervals during the afternoon, which some of the members spent in playing cards while others did fancy work.

Their "silent neighbors" provided gifts for Mrs. A. Legassee and Mrs. Charles Tibbetts, birthday celebrants. Mrs. Milton Crawford and Mrs. Walter C. Dunlap were appointed on a committee to arrange birthday features for the next meeting. Mrs. James Blackwell conducted business matters. Since Mrs. Dean Laub, circle president, will be unable to finish out her term, Mrs. Stella Miller, vice president, was advanced to the leadership of the group. Mrs. Tibbetts was appointed vice president.

The next meeting will be held October 22 in the home of Mrs. Herbert Birt.

Royal Neighbors

Golden State camp, R. N. A., members enjoyed a scavenger hunt this week as a feature of a party which losers in a recent contest gave for the winners.

Winners in the entertaining search were Fred Pope, Mrs. Mary Emma Johnson, Mrs. Maxie Wilson and Miss Evelyn Blaeholder. Losers were B. M. Crawford, Miss Trina Johnson, Mrs. Hannah Ray and Mrs. Minnie Sturgeon.

The group returned to Knights of Columbus hall for a social time during which home-made ice cream and cake were served at tables which had been decorated by Mrs. Elva Crawford.

On the committee in charge of the party were Mrs. Vera Pope, captain of the losing team and Mesdames Ruth Lohmann, Nellie Baker, Margie Boyd, Hart Pennington and Maxie Wilson.

Entertainment for the next meeting of the camp will be in charge of Miss Trina Johnson.

Off the Florida coast, between Miami and Key West, there are 600 known varieties of fish.

A KNOTTY PROBLEM FOR VOTERS TO DECIDE

At the November election, each voter will have 23 questions to decide, besides who should be elected. One of the most perplexing and knotty problems facing the voters will be the question of whether oil companies shall have the right to drill over the surface of the water of the Pacific ocean with right to the state to make a contract to have the oil taken from under the Pacific ocean by a method of slant drilling with the apparatus on the shore.

On next Tuesday night, September 29th, this problem will be argued pro and con by competent speakers on both sides, at the Forum for Political and Economic Education at the Junior College building. Admission is free and the subject is really of more interest to Orange county citizens than those of any other part of the state, as it really has reference, at the present, to Huntington Beach drilling, in Orange county.

It is a big problem because there are millions of dollars at stake and, at present, the government is getting practically nothing from the oil which is being taken from under the Pacific ocean.

The Register does not pretend to know what should be done in this matter but is certainly interested in hearing an intelligent discussion on the subject.

THE GRANGE AND FARM WAGES

We notice that the Pomona Grange unanimously advocates the resolution endorsing activities of various clubs "in an endeavor to retain our young people on the farms".

We would be glad to give plenty of space to the Grange to explain how keeping young people on the farm can help society. If we are to have a higher and higher standard of living and use a larger fraction of other things than those produced on the farm, we must, of necessity, have fewer people on the farms, instead of more. If it is more economical and requires less human energy to farm with a gas engine than to raise the feed and farm by horses, we will, of necessity have to have men in other occupations to produce the engines and the fuel. If we want more transportation, more sanitation, more beauty, more art, more entertainment, we will, of necessity, have to have a greater fraction of the total population employed in these lines of industry.

The wages on the farm, as every student of economics knows, have been way below the wages paid in other industries with similar skill. The only one reason these wages are lower on the farm than the same energy gets in other lines of enterprise is because there are too many workers on the farms and not enough workers in the cities to reduce the cost of what the manufacturers and distributors have to sell. Every boy who leaves the farm, helps correct this disparity without in any way retarding production. In return, it reduces the cost of production that is out of line. Of course, those who have a monopoly on certain kinds of labor, contend that there are too many workers at that line at present.

If society artificially doubles the wage in any industry, there would be, of course, fewer jobs in the line the wage was doubled. There is a scarcity of jobs in these particular lines because the wages are artificial or because there is a monopoly between the owners.

As long as there are plenty of desires, and every human being wants something, and men are able and willing to work, there is plenty of work to be done.

As explained above, we would be glad to give the Grange plenty of space to have them explain why they want to keep more boys on the farm and then propose that the federal government buy and subsidize these productions that are produced in such great quantities that there is not a market that will reward the workers on any where near the comparative basis as those who work in the protected industry in the cities.

WHO HAS A COMMUNIST VOTE?

There has been considerable controversy as to whom the Communists are voting for—whom they are backing. Roosevelt tries, through his representative, Mr. O'Leary, to convey to his disloyal friends the idea that he would feel "deeply mortified" if any one of them, (Communists), voted for him. This was done for the purpose of clearing Mr. Roosevelt of the charge of welcoming the Communist support. This does not explain, however, the reasons for the singular situation created by the flat declaration, weeks ago, from the Communist candidate for president that "our main objective in this campaign is the defeat of Landon".

Mr. Browder, the Communist candidate, explains, in effect, that the Communist party has no use for Mr. Roosevelt personally and is fully aware that he is anti-Communist. Nevertheless, Browder contends his (Roosevelt's) reelection is the only way in which a real farmer and labor party can be brought into existence for 1940. Hence, it is to the interest of the Communist cause to join with the union labor leaders supporting Mr. Roosevelt.

While Communists and Socialists are not exactly the same, their principles are very similar. It is interesting to note that in the Literary Digest poll, released Friday, there were 1182 who, four years ago, voted for the Socialist candidate, who voted for Landon, and there were 3262 Socialists, who, four years ago, voted for the Socialist party, who, this year, were voting for Roosevelt.

In other words, there are nearly three times as many Socialists this year who are switching and voting for Roosevelt as are voting for Landon in the Literary Digest poll. This would indicate that the Communists and Socialists do believe that Roosevelt is more Communist and Socialistic than Landon. Birds of a feather invariably flock together!

ECONOMY

Governor Landon has done a lot of talking about economy and, at the same time promises that all services are to be maintained. In fact, he promises some new services which will greatly add to the expense of the government, such as insurance on crops and paying people to export commodities. Landon, however, knows considerable about economies from his experience in Kansas. He even reduced his own small salary in Kansas in order to help balance the budget in his state.

We believe that this kind of economy is practical economy: that even in spite of his foolish economic theories, he would be more likely to balance the budget than the present administrator who never even had to balance his own personal budget and who greatly threw out of balance the budget of the state of New York when he was governor.

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor's Note: The Register is sorry for lines being mixed up in Mr. Walker's former article.

We do not think the following article submitted by Mr. Walker is on the subject of capital and wages but the Register does believe in letting other people have their say whether they are logical or talk on the subject or not, that we are reproducing what Mr. Walker has to say.

Mr. Walker contends that he can prove to be untrue the Register's contention that the amount of wages an employee can earn depends, everything else being the same, upon the amount of capital he has. He cites an example which he contends proves that the amount of capital per worker does not affect the wages of the worker. He proceeds to attempt to demonstrate the absurdity of the Register's statement by the statements that Henry Ford expanded wages from 1917 to 1920 when income taxes were high and reduced wages when income taxes were low from 1929 to 1933. He fails to take into consideration that there were many other factors that were not the same under those two periods; that this was a coincidence and not a cause. It would be just as logical to conclude that because a man died while he was sleeping that the sleep was the cause of his death. He might argue that if we had prohibition coincident with depression or coincident with prosperity, that prohibition was the cause of the depression or prosperity. A coincidence does not demonstrate a conclusion.

The Register, of course, cannot prove that his statement is not true because no negative can be proved without proving a positive. Economics and morals have not been reduced to an exact science and we cannot prove definitely that other things have been the cause. It is only what sounds reasonable and in harmony with human experience that has to be the guide as to what does raise wages and lower wages. It seems in harmony with all our personal experience and observation that men can produce more comforts with good tools than without them. We can get from here to Los Angeles much easier and with much less expenditure of human energy by using a good automobile and gas than we can by walking. Mr. Walker evidently believes the contrary, judging from his statements.

Mr. Walker does not seem to realize the nature of capital—that capital must be operated in order to remain capital. The expansion in industry now is a coincidence in the Register's opinion, not a result of it. What expansion there is in industry (and there has been practically no new capital invested in private industry during the last three years; it is only the old equipment trying to salvage itself)—is largely due to the fact that purchasing power is being taken away from those who have made loans in the past and transferred to the government, by the government bank credit, and from the government transferred to some million families being subsidized by the government. This, of course, increases business exactly on the same principle that if a robber loots a bank, he invariably spends the money and causes a temporary increase in consumptive goods, which consumptive goods would have been under the natural course of events, later consumed by those who were deprived of their equity in the bank by the robbery. We are herewith reproducing Mr. Walker's presentation:

CAPITAL AND WAGES

Editor Register: The latter half of my communication, as published in Saturday's Register, indicates that the printer accidentally and prematurely "piled a form" and that the office cut off following copy. Incidentally, the Register's contentions that a similar misfortune befell the editorial.

In the original text a paragraph was submitted as follows: "Further, you assert: 'Under our present tax laws, it would be impossible for a factory like Ford to develop and raise the standard of living of all the people.' That is a typical reactionary fallacy. I respectfully submit that your statement has no foundation in fact and is thoroughly absurd."

The last of the foregoing lines were printed 49 lines from the first lines. Two succeeding paragraphs in support of the assertions in the latter part of the quoted paragraph were so commingled that it would have required an expert in deciphering codes to rearrange the lines. It may have been possible, nevertheless, to glean from the transposed text the general idea sought to be presented: that the Ford plant expanded and increased wages under a high income tax, from 1917 to 1920; it restricted production and reduced wages under a low income tax, from 1929 to 1933; and is now sharing in the revival of industry under higher income taxes; thus demonstrating that the familiar reactionary claim that the income tax is a "burden on industry" and that if the income tax is lowered or repealed, the surplus profits would be used to "expand industry" and "increase wages", actually has no basis in fact, as shown by experience.

I will not undertake to discuss the numerous arguments submitted in your last editorial. Some of them are amusing themselves: others are the thrashing of old straw—and by some one who is a novice at swinging a flail.

The concluding lines of your editorial, however, require comment. As an answer to my statement that the money saved by Big Business, under reduced income taxes, was used to finance industries abroad, which competed with American industries and American labor, instead of for the purpose of financing industries at home, your editorial states: "When the federal government so mismanages its money and so restricts and restrains the growth and private management of capital in this country, it naturally seeks the field where it is more in demand and where the reward is greater."

DEED

[Editor's Note: The following article was written by Ole Hanson, well-known in Santa Ana, and printed in the form of a deed, properly folded, sealed and recorded.]

It is extremely rare, and, if nothing else, is a masterpiece of this kind of expression, worthy of study as a perfect example. The readers may be the judges as to whether it should be an example in sarcasm or in logic. At least, many readers of Ole in Orange County will be delighted at the opportunity of reading it.)

Conveying rights, liberties and powers hitherto considered inalienable.

THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

For and in consideration of promises made by

THE GOLDEN VOICE OF THE RADIO

and in the hope of bringing to our country, the standard of freedom and liberty now enjoyed in Russia, Italy and Germany, hereby

GIVE AND GRANT UNTO

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

JAMES FARLEY, ICKES, TUGWELL, PLANTIER, HOPKINS, et al (otherwise known as the "New Dealers"), their heirs and assigns, the following rights and liberties hitherto enjoyed by us, TO WIT:

1. We irrevocably transfer our right of self-government to you. Why send Congress to Washington at great expense merely to obey your orders?

2. We deed to you the right to place "Yes Men" on the Supreme Court, in order that it may not hinder our downward progress.

3. We deed to you all state's rights whatsoever, as we desire to be ruled by bureaucrats from Washington.

4. We deed to you, entire control of the tariff. Abolish the tariff walls, close factories, free our workers from toll, import food, and cattle, when we were ragged by other countries rich. Why worry about us. We can go on the dole!

5. We deed back to you the platform pledges of 1932. We release you from your promises, knowing full well that you will make us new and better promises in 1936.

6. We deed to you, the freedom and liberty of our children. They would not know how to rule themselves as well as your politicians and professors.

7. We give and grant unto you the control of the weather and crops; how, when and where to plant or not plant, and how much. We know you will do right, for when we were hungry, you ploughed up the crops and slaughtered the cattle, when we were ragged you destroyed the cotton and paid folks not to raise crops for food and clothing!

8. We give to you the right to dictate to all producers. Never having met a payroll in your lives, we feel you are competent to conduct all enterprises; never having soiled your hands with toil, we know, that you know what is best for the workers!

9. We deed to you the right to tax away from us all our substance, and use the proceeds as you see fit, without check or supervision of any kind. WE KNOW that you know how to spend money.

10. We give to you full authority to spend as you are doing, $2.00 for every $1.00 taken from us; using our credit as long as it lasts by issuing interest bearing bonds which now fill the banks. When these bonds become worthless, we further authorize you to abrogate the bonds, make null and void our obligations, and start anew, issuing more bonds and certificates. By so doing none of us need worry as long as the printing presses do not break down.

11. We give to you the right to ridicule and punish all who disagree with your program: call all people fools who believe in Americanism; veto all bonus bills, reduce the tariff, cut weeds, build the Florida Canal, waste money at Passamaquoddy, and employ all who will vote for you in some bureau! All this waste we hereby approve because we know you need the votes!

12. In case we have left out anything, we hereby give and grant it unto you without any equivocation or mental reservation whatsoever.

In granting you the above, we admit that we have been warned and know what we are doing. We cannot govern ourselves, therefore you must govern us. We cannot handle property, therefore, we should have none, we cannot appreciate freedom or liberty and we are glad to make you and yours, DICTATORS IN NAME as you have been in FACT.

The Bible was wrong when it said "By the sweat of your brow, you shall earn your bread."

You are right when you say "By voting for us, you will get the DOLE."

Rulers of America, we want you to own it, and own us!

Ride us! Rule us! Rob us! Ruin us!

When we are hungry, give us a thrill on the radio!

When we are ragged, advocate nudism!

Down with the workers: they produce too much!

Down with the employer: he wants to earn vulgar wealth!

Down with the Courts: they prate about law!

DOWN, say we with everybody but yourselves!

UP with the flag of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin!

Orange County Veterans' association is holding its annual meeting today at G. L. R. hall where 300 Civil war veterans and their wives from all over the county are assembled. Election resulted in the choice of A. H. Thomas of Huntington Beach to succeed C. E. Buell of Santa Ana as president; W. H. H. Clayton of Orange, and O. V. Knowlton of Fullerton, first and second vice presidents; the Rev. F. S. Haughawout of Santa Ana, chaplain; A. B. Paul, Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer. Huntington Beach will be the scene of the next meeting of the association.

A party of experienced Santa Ana beet growers is preparing to superintend the planting of some 2000 acres on the Santa Margarita ranch to sugar beets. Barns and other buildings necessary to beginning planting operations, already are under construction.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

There can be no serious dispute of the contention that the key to all our economic difficulties is a wider and wider spread of buying power.

The question is: How shall we distribute buying power more widely? Let's look at a few of the ways proposed in the last few years.

Shall we do it through a share-the-wealth movement?

If by share-the-wealth is meant dividing up the wealth we now have or the annual national income we now have, this is a false lead. Even at the high tide of "prosperity" the annual national income divided with mathematical equality would have given us only $665 per capita. If we divided up all the wealth we have, that would not directly increase our wealth, and it is an increase in our wealth that we must have if we are to lift living standards.

Shall we reduce unemployment or wipe it out by dividing up the work?

It has been demonstrated that we could not, at our present stage of technical knowledge and managerial skill, produce enough to give a proper living standard to all Americans if we went overnight to, say, a 30 hour week. That would put more people to work but it would not produce as much of goods and services as we were producing in 1929.

Shall we raise our taxes and increase spending on public works and enterprises?

Keep in mind that what we need is more goods and services for the rank and file of the people. We may raise taxes, using these taxes to pay farmers for not raising cotton or hogs, and think we are spreading buying power. But we need that cotton to wear and those hogs to eat. It is fine to have magnificent post offices, and a few workmen get jobs building them. But men, now without homes, cannot sleep in these post offices. The fact is that, aside from meeting certain emergency needs, much if not most money spent on public work does not create the things the people need most to raise their living standard. Shall we raise the wage scale by political action?

Where the industry can stand it because its other factors are in proper control and when prices do not rise faster than wages rise, the raising of the wage scale is a magnificent achievement. But there are some 74,000,000 working Americans who are not employed on a wage basis. What we need is a method that will increase the buying power of all Americans, not just the wage workers alone.

The one most nearly universal method of spreading power, that is the method that will bring the most nearly universal benefit, is the lowering of prices through improved productive methods, with a vast increase in volume, which in turn creates more and more jobs.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

THOROUGHNESS

If I were asked what quality would best advance a student would say, Thoroughness. One idea thoroughly mastered, will generate more power in the mind and more character in the soul than a host of ideas that have been scantily served to the mind. Thoroughly mastered work gives a student clear and sure ideas upon which he can depend. The partially mastered ones have the effect of confusing, troubling, hindering him. Better never to have touched them than to have missed them by the way. Better no trace of them than the dim one that cannot be seen clearly.

Little children should learn what they learn once and for all. When they learn the sounds of their letters, the sight words of the reading vocabulary, their tables, let them learn them thoroughly so that forever after they have them at call, certain and sure. Many of the failures in the upper grades are caused by a lack of thoroughness in learning the fundamentals of the first subjects—reading and number.

Accuracy is more important than speed. One of the causes of a lack of thoroughness is the desire for speed in learning and reciting. The little ones are speeded so that they have not time enough to get the clear, sure pictures, to master the combinations of numbers. They are asked to give accurate results before they have acquired impressions, and that spells failure. Time is an important element in learning.

Children have a long period of infancy, so they may learn thoroughly, but for some reason or other some school people can't bear to have them use their time for learning. They insist that they use it for expressing what is not yet formed for expression. The older students have the same need. They need time to be thorough. The time needed varies with the individual, so there should be variety in the programs of the children. We do not find that often. We find a whole class forced to do the same amount of work in the same time. We find examinations close on the heels of lessons, so that students are required to express knowledge that is not sufficiently seasoned for expression. A period of time should elapse between the learning and reciting of facts before tests are given. The facts ought to be turned over again and again and allowed to seep into the minds of the students before they are called upon to express them.

To all this the teachers will say that they have no time, and they for the greater part speak accurately. Why is there not time? Because we want the students to do too much in the time they have. We will have to cut down the amount of subject matter to suit the type of student. We will have to allow them all, from the infant class to the college seniors, time to master the courses they take, time to season their knowledge to make it into power. Teachers agree on this. What they cannot agree on is the material to be dropped. My idea would be that the student's needs settle what and how much he can do in a given time. A skilled teacher very soon judges the capacity of a student, and if given the opportunity to adjust his program to his needs and abilities he can do so. Then thoroughness could find its right place in the scheme of education.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.
